Social Influence on Close Relationships Christopher R. Agnew, 2014-10-09 How do we choose a partner to initiate a relationship with and what makes us stay in a given relationship over time These questions are most often pursued by scholars with an emphasis on the internal thoughts feelings and motivations of individual decision makers Conversely this volume highlights the importance of considering external influences on individual decision making in close relationships Featuring contributions from internationally renowned scholars the volume is divided into two interrelated sections The first section considers global and societal influences on romantic relationships and the second focuses on social network and communicative influences on romantic relationships Taken together this collection helps us to better understand how external factors influence the internal machinations of those involved in intimate relationships

Inappropriate Relationships Robin Goodwin, Duncan Cramer, 2005-04-11 In one of the great euphemisms of our time an embattled President Clinton admitted to an inappropriate relationship with his White House intern Monica Lewinsky But what exactly is an inappropriate relationship For that matter what is an appropriate relationship And how can an understanding of the rules of appropriateness help us understand personal relationships in our modern world Contributors to this book discuss the personal boundaries and taboos of modern relationships Together they examine the power struggles that can occur when individuals are involved in inappropriate relationships and the ways individuals in such a relationship may attempt to buffer themselves against sanctions or even embrace this relationship as an agent of social change Representing work from a range of disciplines this collection will appeal to scholars researchers students and professionals working on relationships issues in areas across the social sciences including those working in the fields of social psychology family studies social anthropology cultural studies and communication

The Art of Symbolic Resistance Joanne N. Smith Finley, 2013-09-12 Against the background of the 1989 Tiananmen riots July 2009 this book provides a longitudinal study of contemporary Uyghur identities and Uyghur Han relations Previous studies considered China's Uyghurs from the perspective of the majority Han state or people Conversely The Art of Symbolic Resistance considers Uyghur identities from a local perspective based on interviews conducted with group members over nearly twenty years Smith Finley rejects assertions that the Uyghur ethnic group is a creation of the Chinese state suggesting that contemporary Uyghur identities involve a complex interplay between long standing intra group socio cultural commonalities and a more recently evolved sense of common enmity towards the Han This book advances the discipline in three senses from a focus on sporadic violent opposition to one on everyday symbolic resistance from state to local representations and from a conceptualisation of Uyghurs as victim to one of creative agent

Bilingual Couples Talk Ingrid Piller, 2002-10-10 This sociolinguistic study of the linguistic practices of bilingual couples describes the conditions processes and results of private language contact It is based on a unique corpus of more than 20 hours of private conversations between partners in bilingual marriages Adding to its breadth of coverage these private conversations are supplemented with larger public discourses about international couplehood The volume thus offers a corpus driven investigation of the ways in which ideologies of gender nationality and immigration mediate linguistic performances in private cross cultural communication The author embraces social constructionist feminist and postmodern approaches to second language learning multilingualism and cross cultural communication In contrast to other titles in the field which have focused almost exclusively on the socialization of bilingual children this book explores what it means to one's sense of self to become socialized into a second language and culture as a late bilingual
