Nation-states and the challenges of regional integration in West Africa Kwame A. Ninsin, 2009 Since the Treaty establishing the Economic Community of West African States ECOWAS was signed in 1975 several protocols have been adopted providing the legal and institutional framework for implementing the integration of the West African sub-region. All social and political stakeholders agree that regional integration is a major challenge for development in West Africa. Yet the regional integration process has been affected by many delays even failures. Member states have pursued a seemingly contradictory dual objective: build a Nation state within colonial Borders and achieve regional integration to fight against under development. Can national planning priorities be reconciled with the demands and objectives of regional integration processes in West Africa? Since 2005 under the auspices of the Management of Social Transformations MOST Programme initiative the Social and Human Sciences Sector of UNESCO has organized a series of national seminars on West African regional integration in the ECOWAS region. Four seminars have so far been organized in Senegal, Mali, Benin and Ghana. This anthology publishes papers presented at Ghana's national seminar on Nation states and the Challenge of Regional Integration in West Africa: the Case of Ghana held in Accra from 8 to 9 November 2005. The contributors suggest that Ghana's reluctance to relinquish its sovereignty stemmed from a lack of commitment in the first 20 years of ECOWAS existence and preoccupation with its own security and survival against internal and external threats. The state has currently demonstrated renewed commitment by establishing a Ministry of Regional Cooperation and the New Agenda for Africa's Development NEPAD to coordinate and manage the sub-regional integration programme. In spite of positive developments results have been disappointing. The new ministry remains isolated and is constrained by limited resources in finance and manpower. Its approach to integration issues has been elitist and technocratic, concentrating on formal trade and ignoring the importance of the informal trade that has been the traditional means of popular participation in the integration of West African economies. Borderland communities with economic and social ties continue to engage in exchanges across political boundaries in defiance of national and state security concerns. Empowerment of Ghanaians involved in small scale informal cross border trade in majority women would not only increase the levels of social and economic integration but would make the benefits of integration available to large sections of the population.

Nation-states and the Challenges of Regional Integration in West Africa Siga Fatima Jagne, 2010

Nation-states and the Challenges of Regional Integration in West Africa Yomi Akinyeye, 2010 Since their independence African states West in particular have felt a need for regional integration in order to solve their development problems. Various aspects of Nigeria's experience in regional integration are there examined. These include the advocacy of chambers of commerce for common currencies among members of the West African Monetary Zone, security implications of defense pacts between some francophone member countries and France and grassroots participation to solve problems concerning borders and borderlands. Finally facilitators and obstacles of regional integration are examined Touaregs du Niger, le destin d'un mythe Emmanuel Grégoire, 1999 Si la signature d'accords de paix Niamey 24 avril 1995 mit fin la rébellion touarogue au Niger le problème posé par l'insertion de cette société dans un Etat et une économie moderne ne semble pas pour autant résolu. A travers l'étude du développement de la région d'Agadez l'auteur entreprend une histoire politique et économique du pays touareg nigérien. Cette genèse met en lumière les mécanismes qui ont amené l'accumulation des groupes marchands arabes haoussas et djermas songhais et ceux qui ont conduit la marginalisation de la communauté touarogue qui n'a pas pu ou su s'insérer dans le nouveau tissu économique mis en place dès l'époque coloniale. L'analyse des différents secteurs d'activités : exploitation de l'uranium, développement d'un grand commerce régional et transsaharien souligne la faible participation des Touaregs à cette économie nouvelle. Beaucoup s'adonnent encore au commerce caravanier et au pastoralisme dont ils maîtrisent remarquablement les techniques mais ne contrôlent pas les lucratives filières d'exportation vers le Nigeria et le Maghreb. Sous l'impulsion de Manoug Dayak certains Touaregs notamment les Iforas ont aussi investi le domaine du tourisme mais les efforts accomplis ont tantôt été annulés par la rébellion. Enfin fuyant le chômage endémique qui sévit au Niger et n'ayant pas les moyens de reconstituer le troupeau familial décimé par les sécheresses de jeunes Touaregs s'exilent en Libye. Comme d'autres Africains qui ne craignent pas de traverser le désert pour tenter d'amasser un petit pécule ils y constituent une main d'œuvre mal payée et corvéable. L'ouvrage qui se défend de tout parti pris s'efforce de souligner les terribles défis que doivent relever les Touaregs afin de mettre fin à leur situation de sous-développement. Avec l'aide de l'Etat nigérien et des bailleurs de fonds internationaux un sursaut salvateur s'impose pour que cette société prenne enfin sa place dans le monde contemporain et ne devienne pas le figurant d'un merveilleux décor parcouru par des touristes avides d'exotisme. La marche de l'histoire ne l'attendra pas Portrait d'un jésuite en anthropologue Claude Pairault, Jean Benoist, 2001-01-01 Entretiens voquant l'itinéraire du jésuite et anthropologue qui est Jean Benoist et qui lui a permis de vivre en Afrique. Il explique comment il a conjugué liberté de recherche avec les vœux d'un religieux Journal of African Languages and Linguistics, 1996 L'électricité au cœur des défis africains Christine Heuraux, 2010

En retour les langues d'Afrique puiseront elles aussi dans le lexique portugais. Mais la conséquence la plus frappante de ces contacts linguistiques est certainement l'émergence en Asie et en Afrique de nouvelles langues, les créoles portugais. En Afrique on compte six créoles portugais. Au Cap Vert le créole est la langue de la vie quotidienne, c'est aussi la langue parlée par les centaines de milliers de Capverdiens de la
