Diderot A Critical Biography:

Diderot Philip Nicholas Furbank, 1993 This is Not a Story and Other Stories Denis Diderot, 1991 All five of the great philosopher and encyclopedist's 1713-1784 quite remarkable short stories one or two of which have never been translated before assembled and translated into English by P N Furbank Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR On the Sufficiency of Natural Religion Denis Diderot, 2024-05-09 In the bustling intellectual climate of mid 18th century France Denis Diderot a luminary of the Enlightenment penned De la suffisance de la religion naturelle in 1746 This incisive treatise composed in the fervor of youthful inquiry remained unpublished until 1770 when it appeared in the Recueil philosophique a compilation curated by Jacques Andr Naigeon Interestingly the work was initially misattributed to the Marquis de Vauvenargues This is one of his earliest works displaying his engagement with theological and philosophical questions during the Enlightenment In this text Diderot explores the idea that natural religion rooted in reason and observation of the natural world might be sufficient for moral and spiritual guidance without the need for organized religion or divine revelation He critiques the dogmas and rituals of institutionalized faith advocating instead for a more rational and empirical approach to understanding the divine This work marks Diderot's initial foray into questioning traditional religious structures a theme that would recur throughout his career While not as widely studied as his later works it provides important insight into the development of his philosophical thought and his growing skepticism toward established religious authority Already Diderot was in open conflict with his overly religious brother whom he openly hated driving his philosophy towards an unanchored Materialism Structured as a series of 27 contemplative reflections Diderot's work delves into the essence and adequacy of natural religion that is a belief system grounded in human reason and the observable world independent of supernatural revelation The text serves as a bridge in Diderot's philosophical evolution linking his earlier theological musings to his later materialist convictions Notably the ninth reflection echoes sentiments from his Pensées philosophiques underscoring a continuity in his critique of religious orthodoxy and an advocacy for a morality derived from nature itself This edition contains a new Afterword by the translator a short biography a glossary of Philosophical Terms used by Diderot a chronology of his core life and works and a summary index of all of Diderot's works With a clean modern translation of Diderot's Enlightenment era French this edition brings Diderot's thoughts directly into the modern intellectual sphere tracing the intellectual forces which swept along Diderot and impacted today's secular sphere Dictionary of World Biography Barry Jones, 2019-05-10 Jones Barry Owen 1932 Australian politician writer and lawyer born in Geelong Educated at Melbourne University he was a public servant high school teacher television and radio performer university lecturer and lawyer before serving as a Labor MP in the Victorian Parliament 1972-77 and the Australian House of Representatives 1977-98 He took a leading role in reviving the Australian film industry abolishing the death penalty in Australia and was the first politician to raise public awareness of global warming the post industrial society the IT revolution biotechnology the rise of
