Austria 1867-1955 John W. Boyer, 2022-09-15 Austria 1867-1955 connects the political history of German speaking provinces of the Habsburg Empire before 1914 Vienna and the Alpine Lands with the history of the Austrian Republic that emerged in 1918 John W Boyer presents the case of modern Austria as a fascinating example of democratic nation building The construction of an Austrian political nation began in 1867 under Habsburg Imperial auspices with the German speaking bourgeois Liberals defining the concept of a political people Volk and giving that Volk a constitution and a liberal legal and parliamentary order to protect their rights against the Crown The decades that followed saw the administrative and judicial institutions of the Liberal state solidified but in the 1880s and 1890s the membership of the Volk exploded to include new social and economic strata from the lower bourgeoisie and the working classes Ethnic identity was not the final structuring principle of everyday politics as it was in the Czech lands Rather social class occupational culture and religion became more prominent variables in the sortition of civic interests exemplified by the emergence of two great ideological parties Christian Socialism and Social Democracy in Vienna in the 1890s The war crisis of 1914-1918 exploded the Empire with the Crown self destructing in the face of military defeat chronic domestic unrest and bitter national partisanship But this crisis also accelerated the emergence of new structures of democratic self governance in the German speaking Austrian lands enshrined in the republican Constitution of 1920 Initial attempts to make this new project of democratic nation building work failed in the 1920s and 1930s culminating in the catastrophe of the 1938 Nazi occupation After 1945 the surviving legatees of the Revolution of 1918 reassembled under the four power Allied occupation which fashioned a shared political culture which proved sufficiently flexible to accommodate intense partisanship resulting by the 1970s in a successful republican system organized under the aegis of elite democratic and corporatist negotiating structures in which the Catholics and Socialists learned to embrace the skills of collective but shared self governance

Law and Revolution Matej Accetto, Katja Škrubej, Joseph H. H.

Weiler, 2024-04-23 The last one hundred years have seen a number of events that could be perceived as disruptive challenges to the normal operation of the legal order. Some have been disruptive innovations of technologies or business practices; others, social changes or constitutional transformations further buttressed by the impact of globalisation and interdependence affecting the development of international, transnational and global law. Coincidentally, this period of one hundred years has been bookended by two pandemics themselves disruptive realities testing the resilience as well as the adaptability of the legal regimes. A hundred years ago, the founding dean of a newly established law faculty, beginning its mission amid the ashes of the First World War and the disintegration of the only remaining European empire, gave an opening lecture exploring the role of law and judges in the face of revolutionary societal changes. Drawing upon that important text, this edited volume explores similar challenges for law brought about by various disruptive realities. The collection looks at the past as well as the future. Following the text of the opening lecture by Pitamic, the contributions are grouped under five headings dealing with the law and revolution in 1918, the challenges posed for law by the seemingly more gradual political or technological transformations, the effects of globalisation and the changing world, with the final contributions reassessing the law, its methodologies and traditional paradigms, including in the epilogue the challenges posed for law by the recent disruptive reality of the Covid 19 pandemic. The book will be of interest to academics, researchers and policy makers working in the areas of legal history, jurisprudence, constitutional law, law and politics, and law and technology. Eugenie Trützschler von Falkenstein, 2005 Um Mitteleuropa besser verstehen zu können ist es notwendig die geschichtlichen Zusammenhänge sowie die philosophischen staatsrechtlichen und soziokulturellen Hintergründe zu kennen. Diese Arbeit hat es sich zur Aufgabe gemacht die Schwerpunkte der Entwicklungen in diesen Bereichen und die einzelnen Bestrebungen der tschechischen slowakischen polnischen ungarischen und slowenischen Nationen seit ihrer Wiedererweckung zu Beginn des 19. Jahrhunderts bis heute kritisch zu beleuchten. Weiter wird der Frage nachgegangen inwieweit die Dezentralisierung den Maßgaben der Europäischen Union und des Europarates entspricht und ob dieser Prozess auch einen unmittelbaren Einfluss auf die Forderungen der nationalen Minderheiten in den Nationalstaaten hat die bereits Mitglieder der Europäischen Union sind.
