Die Reformation In Deutschland:

Die Reformation in Deutschland... Joseph Lortz, 1962      Die deutsche Reformation und Deutschlands Gegenwart
Wilhelm Lütgert, 1917      Town, Country, and Regions in Reformation Germany Tom Scott, 2005-04-01 This collection of essays covers relations between town and country regional economic systems and historical regional studies in late medieval and early modern Germany in particular how these bear upon social and religious change in the age of the Reformation Starting from case studies of South West Germany Switzerland and Alsace the essays broaden out to consider the formation of economic landscapes the development of urban territories and the survival of forms of serfdom throughout Germany as a whole While issues of economic and social structure take pride of place they are accompanied by analysis of regional mentalities and cultural identities as well With an Introduction by Tom Brady      History of the Reformation in Germany and Switzerland Chiefly Karl Rudolf Hagenbach, 1878      Wolf Dietrich von Maxlrain und die Reformation in der Herrschaft Hohenwaldeck Wilhelm Knappe, 1920      List of References on the History of the Reformation in Germany
William Walker Rockwell, Otto Hermann Pannkoke, 1917      The Preservation of Jewish Religious Books in Sixteenth-Century Germany: Johannes Reuchlin's Augenspiegel Daniel O'Callaghan, 2012-11-05 This book is the first complete and thoroughly commented English translation of Johannes Reuchlin's Augenspiegel 1511 The translation sheds light on the author's motive in appealing to the authorities for the preservation of Jewish books at a stage of great cultural change in Early Modern Europe It also addresses the question of how the church and state dealt intellectually with Judaism at a time when it was considered a threat to the existence of Christianity The translation of one of the most politically controversial sixteenth century pamphlets provides a view of the treatment of a minority's culture with perhaps lessons for today's world
Confessionalization in Europe, 1555-1700 John M. Headley, Hans J. Hillerbrand, 2017-03-02 Confessionalization in Europe 1555-1700 brings together a closely focused set of essays by leading scholars from the USA UK and Europe in memory of Bodo Nischan They address what historians of the Early Modern period have recently come to define as the pre eminent issue in the history of the Reformation as they turn their emphases from the earlier part of the 16th century to the relatively neglected latter half of the century By the time of his death Bodo Nischan had distinguished himself as a significant contributor to this central problem of confessionalization The concept involves the practice of confession building which in relation to that of social disciplining promoted interrelated processes contributing decisively to the formation of confessional churches greater social cohesion and the emergence of the Early Modern absolute state Many religious practices earlier considered as adiaphora indifferent matters now became treated as marks of demarcation between the emerging Protestant confessional churches and at the same time politicized as the early modern state sought to impose greater social control Through the analysis of such liturgical ritual and ceremonial practices Nischan helped show the way towards a better understanding of the Reformation's engagement with the people These are the themes treated in this volume

Communities, Politics, and Reformation in Early Modern Europe Thomas Brady, 2021-10-25 The studies united in this volume explore themes of community politics religion gender and social conflict and accommodation during the first decades of the Reformation movement Other chapters investigate historiographical themes especially the interpretation of early modern German history Two longer chapters address European themes the historical sociology of early modern societies in terms of legal definitions of status and modern conceptions of economic class and the difference between central and western European development in a global context Taken together the studies explore the transition zone between medieval and modern history in both microhistorical especially urban and regional and broadly comparative contexts Some of the studies are supplementary to the author's books on the sixteenth century Protestant Reformation at Strasbourg in southern Germany and in the Holy Roman Empire
