Die Evolution Der Physik:

Die Evolution Der Physik Albert Einstein, Leopold Infeld, 1957 J. D. Bernal's The social function of science, 1939-1989 Helmut Steiner, 1989-12-31 No detailed description available for J D Bernal's The social function of science 1939 1989 Symmetry as a Developmental Principle in Nature and Art Werner Hahn, 1998 Looking beyond the boundaries of various disciplines the author demonstrates that symmetry is a fascinating phenomenon which provides endless stimulation and challenges He explains that it is possible to readapt art to the sciences and vice versa by means of an evolutionary concept of symmetry Many pictorial examples are included to enable the reader to fully understand the issues discussed Based on the artistic evidence that the author has collected he proposes that the new ars evolutoria can function as an example for the sciences The book is divided into three distinct parts each one focusing on a special issue In Part I the phenomenon of symmetry including its discovery and meaning is reviewed The author looks closely at how Vitruvius Polyclitus Democritus Plato Aristotle Plotinus Augustine Alberti Leonardo da Vinci and Durer viewed symmetry This is followed by an explanation on how the concept of symmetry developed The author further discusses symmetry as it appears in art and science as well as in the modern age Later he expounds the view of symmetry as an evolutionary concept which can lead to a new unity of science In Part II he covers the points of contact between the form developing process in nature and art He deals with biological questions in particular evolution The collection of new and precise data on perception and knowledge with regard to the postulated reality of symmetry leads to further development of the evolutionary theory of symmetry in Part III The author traces the enormous treasure of observations made in nature and culture back to a few underlying structural principles He demonstrates symmetry as a far reaching leading structuring causal element of evolution as the idea lying behind nature and culture Numerous controllable reproducible double mirror experiments on a new stereoscopic vision verify a symmetrization theory of perception Teaching As A Reflective Practice Ian Westbury, Stefan Hopmann, Kurt Riquarts, 2012-08-06 This volume presents a mix of translations of classical and modern papers from the German Didaktik tradition newly prepared essays by German scholars and practitioners writing from within the tradition and interpretive essays by U S scholars It brings this tradition which virtually dominated German curricular thought and teacher education until the 1960s when American curriculum theory entered Germany and which is now experiencing a renaissance to the English speaking world where it has been essentially unknown The intent is to capture in one volume the core at least of the tradition of Didaktik and to communicate its potential relevance to English language curricularists and teacher educators It introduces a theoretical tradition which although very different in almost every respect from those we know offers a set of approaches that suggest ways of thinking about problems of reflection on curricular and teaching praxis the core focus of the tradition which the editors believe are accessible to North American readers with appropriate translation These ways of thinking and related praxis are very relevant to notions such as reflective teaching and the discourse on teachers as professionals By raising the possibility that the new tradition of Didaktik can be highly suggestive for thinking through issues related to a number of central ideas within contemporary discourse and for exploring the implications of these ideas for both teacher education and for a curriculum theory appropriate to these new contexts for theorizing this book opens up a gold mine of theoretical and practical possibilities
