Critiques 2 ,1988      The Theory of Architecture Paul-Alan Johnson,1994-04-18 The Theory of Architecture Concepts Themes Practices Paul Alan Johnson Although it has long been thought that theory directs architectural practice no one has explained precisely how the connection between theory and practice is supposed to work This guide asserts that architectural theory does not direct practice but is itself a form of reflective practice Paul Alan Johnson cuts through the jargon and mystery of architectural theory to clarify how it relates to actual applications in the field He also reveals the connections between new and old ideas to enhance the reader s powers of critical evaluation Nearly 100 major concepts themes and practices of architecture as well as the rhetoric of architects and designers are presented in an easily accessible format Throughout Johnson attempts to reduce each architectural notion into its essential concept By doing so he makes theory accessible for everyday professional discussion Topics are arranged under ten headings identification definition power attitudes ethics order authority governance relationship and expression Areas covered under these headings include Utopic thought in theories of architecture Advocacy and citizen participation in architecture The basis of architectural quality and excellence The roles of the architect as artist poet scientist and technologist Ethical obligations of architecture Rationales for models and methods of design How authority is determined in architecture How architects structure their concepts Conventions of communication within the architectural profession Each section begins by showing the etymology of key terms of the topic discussed along with a summary history of the topic s use in architecture Discussions probe the conceptual and philosophical difficulties of different theories as well as their potential and limitations in past and present usage Among the provocative issues discussed in terms of their relationship to architecture are chaos theory feminism service to the community and the use of metaphor Johnson points out with stunning clarity the intentions as well as the contradictions and inconsistencies of all notions and concepts All architects and designers as well as students and teachers in these disciplines will gain many insights about architectural thought in this groundbreaking text      Critiques ,1988      Towards a Critique of Architecture's Contemporaneity Gevork Hartoonian,2023-02-14 Pursuing historical analogies between nineteenth century theories and the current practices captivated by digital reproducibility this book offers a critical take on architecture s contemporaneity through four essays tectonics materiality cladding and labor Fundamental to this proposition is the historicity of Gottfried Semper s theorization of architecture amidst the outpouring of new materials and construction techniques during the 1850s Starting with Semper s differentiation between theatricalization and the tectonic of theatricality this book examines thematic essential to architecture s self representation Even though the title of this book recalls the Semperian Four Elements of Architecture its argument encapsulates a unique historico theoretical project probing the tectonic of theatricality beyond Semper The invisible tie between technique and labor is the cord running through the four subjects covered in this book In exploring these subjects from the theoretical standpoint of Marxian dialectics this book s contribution is focused on but not limited to the topicality of labor today when its relationship with capital has been further obscured by the prevailing digitalization of commodity exchange value starting roughly in the 1990s Each essay examines Semper's theorization of architecture in contradistinction to the ways in which technology's mediation has dominated architecture's representation Burrowing through the invisible tie between technique and work asymptomatic of architecture's predicament in global capitalism Towards a Critique of Architecture's Contemporaneity advances the scope of architectural criticism beyond the exhausted formalism and architecture's turn to philosophy circa the 1980s and the present tendencies for presentism It will therefore be of interest to researchers and students of architectural history and theory

Modern Architecture and the Sacred Ross Anderson, Maximilian Sternberg, 2020-11-26 This edited volume Modern Architecture and the Sacred presents a timely reappraisal of the manifold engagements that modern architecture has had with the sacred It comprises fourteen individual chapters arranged in three thematic sections Beginnings and Transformations of the Modern Sacred Buildings for Modern Worship and Semi Sacred Settings in the Cultural Topography of Modernity The first interprets the intellectual and artistic roots of modern ideas of the sacred in the post Enlightenment period and tracks the transformation of these in architecture over time The second studies the ways in which organized religion responded to the challenges of the new modern self understanding and then the third investigates the ways that abstract modern notions of the sacred have been embodied in the ersatz sacred contexts of theatres galleries memorials and museums While centring on Western architecture during the decisive period of the first half of the 20th century a time that takes in the early musings on spirituality by some of the avant garde in defiance of Sachlichkeit and the machine aesthetic the volume also considers the many varied appropriations of sacrality that architects have made up to the present day and also in social and cultural contexts beyond the West

Critique of Rationality John E. O'Brien, 2016-09-07 In his Critique of Rationality John Eustice O'Brien proposes a fascinating rectification for the distortion of technical necessity in Western Society due to unbridled instrumental reason He begins with a review of this issue first raised by the Early German Romantics as discussed by Isaiah Berlin and Walter Benjamin Following French social philosopher Maurice Merleau-Ponty's radically different apperceptive epistemology he explores the possibility of a social world in which each is anchored by a pre-objective disposition to meaning based on the intersubjective presence of all This justifies the postulate of aesthetic consciousness as the site of socialization in communities of meaning as a frame for judgment and creativity The struggle must continue for awakening that consciousness if an open society is to be realized Spanish-English Mariano Velázquez de la Cadena,1900 The Rise of Awards in Architecture Jean-Pierre Chupin,Carmela Cucuzzella,Georges Adamczyk,2022-09-06 This book is the first scientific study to focus on awards in architecture and the built environment investigating their exponential growth since the 1980s The celebration of excellence in architecture and related fields remains a phenomenon on which there is strangely little scientific scrutiny What is to be understood from the plethora of award winning projects award winning buildings and awarded professional practices in the built environment year after year Glossy images partake in an intense ballet at every local regional national or international award ceremony and they are meant to embody proofs of architectural excellence However it is necessary to take a critical distance to question what awards are meant to embody symbolize and perhaps measure Each of the 10 chapters in this volume is centered on one question related to themes as varied as the comparison of Pritzker and Nobel Prizes the Prix de Rome the redefinition of quality through awards green awards and sustainability the multiplication of sustainable awards heritage awards architecture book awards the awarding of school architecture awards as mediations and awards as pedagogical devices Many fields once consolidated have featured a sharp increase in related prizes The original data compiled and summarized in 4 appendices cover more than 150 award granting organizations in some 30 countries Our inventory includes upwards of 24 000 prizes awarded at more than 3 100 events the earliest of which is the first instance of Western architecture s seminal Grand Prix de Rome in France in 1720 A history of contemporary architecture is thus written through press releases that praise the merits of the heroes as much as their works and achievements And while awards can be vehicles that propel architecture forward they can also be Trojan horses in an era that is constantly on the lookout for event driven products small and big news and brand imaging A new pronouncing dictionary of the Spanish and English languages Edward Gray,Juan L.
