Crop Protection Jean-Philippe

Deguine, 2009-01-09 This book is a synthesis and a celebration of a large body of agro ecological research carried out on the management of the pests of cotton one of the world's major crops and one which has historically been a very heavy consumer of inputs of pesticides. It demonstrates how agro ecological approaches to pest management are at last approaching the mainstream with an increasing recognition that farmland delivers a wide range of ecosystem services, nature's goods and services including but certainly not solely comprising the production of food.

Crop Production and Global Environmental Issues Khalid Rehman Hakeem, 2015-12-08 Meeting the world's food security challenge will require a multi-national collaborative effort to integrate the best research from science, engineering and socioeconomics so that technological advances can bring benefits where they are most needed. The present book covers the effect of major environmental problems on crop production and how to cope with these issues for sustainable agriculture and improvements of crops. The world's population is predicted to hit 9.6 Billion by 2050 up from today's total of nearly 7.3 Billion and with it food demand is predicted to increase substantially. The post-war second agricultural revolution in developed countries and the green revolution in developing nations in the mid 1960s converted agricultural practices and elevated crop yields spectacularly but the outcome is levelling off and will not meet projected demand. Simultaneously crop production is affected by many other factors including industrial pollution, overuse of fertilizers and insecticides, heavy metal and radiation stresses etc. It has been noted that many pests are becoming resistant to insecticides. Estimates vary but around 25% of crops can be lost to pests and diseases. Climate change associated with agriculture is also a global issue. Agriculture is a significant contributor to greenhouse gases and is estimated to account for 10-12% of total greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions. Many of the issues highlighted are global problems and are addressed thoroughly in this work.

Pesticides in Crop Production Prabhat Kumar Srivastava, Vijay Pratap Singh, Anita Singh, Durgesh Kumar Tripathi, Samiksha Singh, Sheo Mohan Prasad, Devendra Kumar Chauhan, 2020-02-14 A guide to the diversity of pesticides used in modern agricultural practices and the relevant social and environmental issues. Pesticides in Crop Production offers an important resource that explores pesticide action in plants, pesticide metabolism in soil microbes, plants and animals, bioaccumulation of pesticides and sensitiveness of microbiome towards pesticides. The authors explore pesticide risk assessment, the development of pesticide resistance in pests, microbial remediation of pesticide-intoxicated legumes and pesticide toxicity amelioration in plants by plant hormones. The authors include information on eco-friendly pest management. They review the impact of pesticides on soil microorganisms, crops and other plants along with the impact on other organisms like aquatic fauna and terrestrial animals including human beings. The book also contains an analysis of pesticide by GC-MS/MS (Gas Chromatography tandem Mass Spectrometry), a reliable method for the quantification and confirmation of multiclass pesticide residues. This important book offers a comprehensive guide to the use of the diversity of pesticides and the pertinent social and environmental issues. Explores the impact of pesticides from
