YAPN - Yet Another Photographer's Notebook Daniel Casper Lohenstein, 2017-12-13 Proceeding systematically and registering data is the starting point to develop techniques and procedures This book will help you to visualize calculate exposure in relation to bellows extensions filter factor and reciprocity and estimate depth of field It wants to be a compact companion everywhere in every occasion Charts in chronological order provide systematical guidelines 140 printed forms are waiting for your collected data to be filled in e g 140 single sheet film negatives or 140 medium format films with 12 exposures on each film Mastery is not achieved with buying expensive devices or comparing MTF charts To have routines training and revision in everyday practise is far more important Photography is not rocket science You control perspective image placement and depth of field on your ground glass You define textured shadows and highlights in III and VII and adjust exposure and development to get some contrast You know about bellows extension factors and filter factors because making a portrait in 4x5 inch is macro photography and you use an external light meter Simply add the exposure values in the charts successively Did you ever mention to do macro photography with a DX FX SLR and an incident light meter e g a Sekonic L28c2 or a Gossen Luna Pro Why not It is possible and far more satisfying than 3D matrix metering through the lens Large format cameras do not have a depth of field scale Just read the tables below to make an estimated guess But be aware these charts result from personal experiences of course there will be no warranty in case of failure If you want to learn more about theory and techniques of photography there is an interesting bibliography You will find some of these items in your local library

Vision and Blindness in Film Dago Schelin,2019-02-13 In order to understand vision we have to look into concepts of blindness both diegetically in typical film characters and in the representation of sight or lack thereof A critical historical investigation into theories of vision shows that the way we understand viscosity today scientifically and culturally is very different from pre modern notions and practices In this book Dago Schelin questions categories such as active and passive vision tactile viscosity as well as blind vision and discusses them alongside a variety of movies that deal with vision and blindness Is there a connection between the filmmaker s gaze and an older pre Keplerian ontology of vision What is the role of sound in vision Are our eyes mere camcorders or might they be projectors These and other questions comprise the fascinating journey on which this study embarks
