Die Nomaden Von Tibet:

Nomads of Eastern Tibet Rinzin Thargyal, 2007-10-01 This book presents the first comprehensive anthropological account of premodern Tibetan pastoral economy and social organization in the Kham region of eastern Tibet. It offers a uniquely fine grained descriptive portrait of traditional Tibetan rural life among nomads in the kingdom of Dege. Based upon extensive ethnographic interviews, this study yields a nuanced analysis of the most crucial and controversial relationship in premodern Tibetan societies, namely that ensuing between local lords and their dependents. It convincingly readdresses anthropological debates and political claims about feudalism or serfdom in Tibetan societies from a perspective that is more sensitive to local historical, social, and economic contexts.

The Religions of Tibet Giuseppe Tucci, 1988-08-08 This book provides the historical background and description of Buddhism in Tibet, clarifying the uniqueness of Tibetan Buddhism.

Tibetan Houses Peter Herrle, 2017-09-11 The region of the Himalayas and the adjoining Tibetan plateau is known for its unique and characteristic vernacular architecture and housing culture, which is slowly but surely disappearing. The first part of the book analyses 19 traditional houses in the region that respond in diverse ways to the specifics of their location and local climate. The second part presents a comparative study of the construction elements: walls, roof, and façades, using photographs and hand-drawn construction details. The newly produced scale drawings provide an excellent basis for comparative review. Detailed plans, atmospheric photographs, and informative texts take the reader on a journey through a fascinating building culture.

Tibetan Border Worlds Wim Van Spengen, 2013-01-11 The focus of the study is the Tibetan and Tibetanized border populations in the little-known Himalayan high valley of Nyishang in West Central Nepal, close to the Tibetan border. There, a group of traders have greatly extended their external relations over the past century in the form of long-distance trade ventures, thereby thoroughly changing the internal conditions of socio-economic organizations in their home district. The object of the study is to establish whether larger geohistorical processes of structural change may be conceptualized in such a way as to link structuration at the level of the localized social group to the dynamics of the wider regional setting.

Proceedings of the Tenth Seminar of the IATS, 2003. Volume 11: Tibetan Modernities International Association for Tibetan Studies. Seminar, 2008-05-31 This book, the first scholarly publication in the West to provide detailed documentation of modern life in contemporary Tibet, presents the cutting-edge field work carried out by an interdisciplinary group of researchers studying caste, pop music, media, painting, education, economics, childbirth, and environment in Tibetan communities today.

Trading Caterpillar Fungus in Tibet Emilia Roza Sulek, 2025-10-01 When the demand for and prices of caterpillar fungus (Ophiocordyceps sinensis) in the Himalayan region soared, the pastoralists of Golok on the Tibetan plateau, where the fungus is endemic, dug up, dried, and sold the fungus to traders. In the process, these yak and sheep farmers, used to living on the edge of subsistence, became wealthy beyond their imagination.
