Die Alte Pinakothek Rüdiger an der Heiden,1998-01-01      The First Modern Museums of Art Carole Paul,2012-11-16

In the eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries the first modern public museums of art civic state or national appeared throughout Europe setting a standard for the nature of such institutions that has made its influence felt to the present day Although the emergence of these museums was an international development their shared history has not been systematically explored until now Taking up that project this volume includes chapters on fifteen of the earliest and still major examples from the Capitoline Museum in Rome opened in 1734 to the Alte Pinakothek in Munich opened in 1836 These essays consider a number of issues such as the nature display and growth of the museums collections and the role of the institutions in educating the public The introductory chapters by art historian Carole Paul the volume s editor lay out the relationship among the various museums and discuss their evolution from private noble and royal collections to public institutions In concert the accounts of the individual museums give a comprehensive overview providing a basis for understanding how the collective emergence of public art museums is indicative of the cultural social and political shifts that mark the transformation from the early modern to the modern world The fourteen distinguished contributors to the book include Robert G W Anderson former director of the British Museum in London Paula Findlen Ubaldo Pierotti Professor of Italian History at Stanford University Thomas Gaehtgens director of the Getty Research Institute and Andrew McClellan dean of academic affairs and professor of art history at Tufts University Show more Show less      Pieter Saenredam, The Utrecht Work Liesbeth M. Helmus,2002-01-01 Pieter Saenredam 1597 1665 was one of the magical painters of 17th century Holland a time known as the Golden Age of Dutch Art He spent his career immortalizing the churches of Holland in drawings and paintings Working through a series of perspective drawings to the finished painting he made innumerable fine adjustments to architectural details to create what may be justly called spaces of wondrous perfection of proportion and luminosity Pieter Saenredam The Utrecht Work is published to coincide with an exhibition of Saenredam s drawings and paintings originally held at the Centraal Museum Utrecht and on view from April 16 through July 7 2002 at the Getty Museum This elegant volume brings together more than sixty drawings and paintings depicting the beautiful and historically venerable churches of the Dutch city of Utrecht      Jan van Noordt David de Witt,2007-11-02 De Witt offers a detailed biography based on a thorough review of the documentary evidence He traces Van Noordt s origins back to a prominent musical family details his artistic development under the guidance of prominent Amsterdam painter Jacob Adriaensz Backer and reveals his synthesis of the styles of the two dominant Netherlandish artists Rubens and Rembrandt Using a systematic analysis of technique manner and approach to form de Witt proves that over half the paintings and drawings presently attributed to Van Noordt are not his work virtually recasting the accomplishments of an artist whose vibrant often daring works challenge our concept of seventeenth century Dutch art      Alte Pinakothek Mirjam Neumeister,Alte Pinakothek (Munich, Germany),2009

Collecting and the Princely Apartment Susan Bracken, 2020-05-15 Collecting is an obsession that goes back to the mists of history While spare time and spare cash seem an absolute necessity for this kind of activity every collector has his or her own approach to the formation of a collection The way in which one's treasures are displayed is another important instance in which one collector differs from another Glass cases niches trays cupboards or drawers have been adopted sometimes cards offer information on the subject its age and provenance an overall theme may have prompted the choice of the actual objects displayed together security reasons suggest one room over another While some collectors keep their treasures as close as possible in their bedroom throughout their living quarters or in a locked up closet nearby others may find that they want to be able to show off their collection without being disturbed by visitors in the rooms in which they actually spend most of their time Certainly our notions of private and public have changed considerably over the centuries and this has had an impact on questions of display and on the separation of particular parts of the house from other less accessible ones in particular in great houses that allow for the establishment of a museum The museum in such cases is quite separate from the living quarters for example situated on the ground floor off the main hall Not all displays were so defined there were many forms of exhibition just as there were many forms of collections The aims and ambitions of the collector are often discussed in terms of the display of their collections in part because we believe that analysing how a collection was shown and how it was received are key contributors to our understanding the role and purpose of the collection In lieu of any other documentation inventories sales catalogues and wills remain essential tools for the historian of collecting both in terms of what was owned and where it was housed This volume the second in a series of four presents ten articles that explore the connection between collections and their display in near or separate from the princely apartment within a time frame that runs from the sixteenth century to the early nineteenth and within a geographical area that includes courts on the Italian peninsula in England France The Netherlands and Germany

Münchener Jahrbuch der bildenden Kunst, 2002 The Moment of Caravaggio Michael Fried, 2010-08-17 This is a groundbreaking examination of one of the most important artists in the Western tradition by one of the leading art historians and critics of the past half century In his first extended consideration of the Italian Baroque painter Michelangelo Merisi da Caravaggio 1573-1610 Michael Fried offers a transformative account of the artist s revolutionary achievement Based on the A W Mellon Lectures in the Fine Arts delivered at the National Gallery of Art The Moment of Caravaggio displays Fried s unique combination of interpretive brilliance historical seriousness and theoretical sophistication providing sustained and unexpected readings of a wide range of major works from the early Boy Bitten by a Lizard to the late Martyrdom of Saint Ursula And with close to 200 color images The Moment of Caravaggio is as richly illustrated as it is closely argued The result is an electrifying new perspective on a crucial episode in the history of European painting Focusing on the emergence of the full blown gallery picture in Rome during the last decade of the sixteenth century and the first decades of the seventeenth Fried draws forth an expansive argument one that leads to a radically revisionist account of Caravaggio s relation to the self portrait of the role of extreme violence in his art as epitomized by scenes of decapitation and of the deep structure of his epoch defining realism Fried also gives considerable attention to the art of Caravaggio s great rival Annibale Carracci as well as to the work of Caravaggio s followers including Orazio and Artemisia Gentileschi Bartolomeo Manfredi and Valentin de Boulogne
