Collected Papers on Greek Colonization A.J. Graham, 2017-09-18 For the first time together in one volume all the papers on Greek colonization published by A J Graham over the last forty years Some of these appeared in publications difficult of access They will all now be widely available and thus complement the author's Colony and Mother City in Ancient Greece and his two chapters on the subject in Cambridge Ancient History III 3 second edition In addition the volume contains one new paper not previously published entitled Thasian Controversies The published papers are reproduced unchanged except for the correction of misprints and the original page numbering is indicated All the original figures and illustrations are included There is a comprehensive analytical index

Etruscology Alessandro Naso, 2017-09-25 This handbook has two purposes it is intended 1 as a handbook of Etruscology or Etruscan Studies offering a state of the art and comprehensive overview of the history of the discipline and its development and 2 it serves as an authoritative reference work representing the current state of knowledge on Etruscan civilization The organization of the volume reflects this dual purpose The first part of the volume is dedicated to methodology and leading themes in current research organized thematically whereas the second part offers a diachronic account of Etruscan history culture religion art archaeology and social and political relations and structures as well as a systematic treatment of the topography of the Etruscan civilization and sphere of influence

The Etruscan World Jean MacIntosh Turfa, 2014-11-13 The Etruscans can be shown to have made significant and in some cases perhaps the first technical advances in the central and northern Mediterranean To the Etruscan people we can attribute such developments as the tie beam truss in large wooden structures surveying and engineering drainage and water tunnels the development of the foresail for fast long distance sailing vessels fine techniques of metal production and other pyrotechnology post mortem C sections in medicine and more In art many technical and iconographic developments although they certainly happened first in Greece or the Near East are first seen in extant Etruscan works preserved in the lavish tombs and goods of Etruscan aristocrats These include early portraiture the first full length painted portrait the first perspective view of a human figure in monumental art specialized techniques of bronze casting and reduction fired pottery the bucchero phenomenon Etruscan contacts through trade treaty and intermarriage linked their culture with Sardinia Corsica and Sicily with the Italic tribes of the peninsula and with the Near Eastern kingdoms Greece and the Greek colonial world Iberia Gaul and the Punic network of North Africa and influenced the cultures of northern Europe In the past fifteen years striking advances have been made in scholarship and research techniques for Etruscan Studies Archaeological and scientific discoveries have changed our picture of the Etruscans and furnished us with new specialized information Thanks to the work of dozens of international scholars it is now possible to discuss topics of interest that could never before be researched such as Etruscan mining and metallurgy textile production foods and agriculture In this volume over 60 experts provide insights into all these aspects of Etruscan culture and more with many contributions available in English for the first time to allow the reader access to research that may not otherwise be available to them Lavishly illustrated The Etruscan World brings to life the culture and material past of the Etruscans and highlights key points of development in research making it essential reading for researchers academics and students of this fascinating civilization Glories of the Past Dietrich Von Bothmer,1990 Eurasia at the Dawn of History Manuel Fernández-Götz,Dirk Krausse,2017-01-16 Our current world is characterized by life in cities the existence of social inequalities and increasing individualization When and how did these phenomena arise What was the social and economic background for the development of hierarchies and the first cities The authors of this volume analyze the processes of centralization cultural interaction and social differentiation that led to the development of the first urban centres and early state formations of ancient Eurasia from the Atlantic coasts to China The chronological framework spans a period from the Neolithic to the Late Iron Age with a special focus on the early first millennium BC By adopting an interdisciplinary approach structured around the concepts of identity and materiality this book addresses the appearance of a range of key phenomena that continue to shape our world The Role of Metals in Ancient Greek History Michail Yu Treister,1996 This volume presents an attempt to argue the role of metals in the history of Greek society using the widest possible variety of sources the evidence of ancient writers epigraphical material and archaeological data the excavated remains of workshops and hoards archaeometallurgical finds the results of studies of ancient mines and analyses of ancient metal objects bronze plastics and jewelry articles coins etc The main task of this work is to analyse the role of various metals in the context of Greek economic life politics culture and art to trace the movement of metal from ore to finished the objects including works of art to show the relations between the regions where metals were extracted and the centres of metalworking the structure of the workshops and the connections between them and the role of the workshops in the economic life at the different stages in Greek history The chronological frame of the study is the 8th 1st centuries BC i e from the beginning of the Great period of Greek colonization till the end of the Hellenistic epoch The geographical frame of the work is the Greek oikumene Greek Identity in the Western Mediterranean Brian Benjamin Shefton,Kathryn Lomas,2004 This collection of essays in honour of Professor B B Shefton provides an innovative exploration of the culture of the Greek colonies of the Western Mediterranean their relations with their non Greek neighbours and the evolution of distinctive regional identities Greek Colonists and Native Populations Jean-Paul Descœudres,1990 The Greek colonization movement of the Early Iron Age which in many ways heralded the expansion of Western civilization all over the world has always exerted a special fascination for those interested in ancient cultures This collection of essays by scholars from fifteen countries examines the interrelation between colonizers and the colonized and the process that led ancient Greek colonies to the emergence of new cultural forms and concepts Stressing the ways archaeology contributes to our understanding of colonization movements both in ancient and modern times the book also presents some fascinating comparative material on Australia s own colonization experience since 1788 Atti ,1962 Die Rhodischen Bronzekannen Brian B. Bucchero from the Lower Building at Poggio Civitate (Murlo) Jon M. Berkin, 2003 Excavations at the Etruscan site of Poggio Civitate Murlo have produced some of the most spectacular and provocative material recovered from Etruria This volume presents the reconstruction and study of a large assemblage of bucchero pottery recovered from the Lower Building at Poggio Civitate in deposits dating from the late Orientalizing period Bucchero is a characteristic Etruscan ceramic type that is commonly found at Orientalizing and Archaic period Etruscan sites This study represents the first major publication on bucchero from Poggio Civitate and also is one of the few studies of a large assemblage of bucchero recovered from a nonfunerary context The author examines the chronology style and function of the bucchero and also considers the question of its place of production The analysis of the bucchero from the Lower Building has important implications not only for the dating of the rest of the Orientalizing period ceramic assemblage at Poggio Civitate but also for the dating and study of
