After the Pandemic Randy Whitaker,2022-10-10 Many things define a job seeker experience education first impressions connections passion and the value you might bring to the company you wish to work for For decades the perceived ideal candidate would have all of the above most of the above however a good candidate would have a four year college degree To a great extent an employer still would like someone with a four year college degree However I believe this is changing The need for those who work with their hands and those who are willing to work their way up through the various levels of an organization is becoming more and more desired by companies The time it will take you to earn your degree you could be making a nice living and will have accrued zero debt in the process Plus after working in an industry of your choice something you do have an interest in even a passion for you may be on equal footing with a newly hired college grad based on the four years you have been working in your industry of choice as you continue to work your way up through the company You will find the more value you bring to a company the more they will look to you to assume great responsibility Typically the more responsibility the greater the paycheck What makes this book timely is the fact as COVID 19 winds down

we are seeing many labor shortages in many areas and industries Now is the absolute best time to go to an industry experiencing a labor shortage or enter one of the numerous industries researched in this book and get yourself the job you always wanted without the cost and time involved with getting a four year college education I have nothing against getting a degree and there are still many fields where they will always be mandatory however the trades service industries government railroads law enforcement plus many others will welcome you with open arms without the need for a four year degree I hope this book helps

Working with AI Thomas H. Davenport, Steven M. Miller, 2022-09-27 Two management and technology experts show that AI is not a job destroyer exploring worker AI collaboration in real world work settings This book breaks through both the hype and the doom and gloom surrounding automation and the deployment of artificial intelligence enabled smart systems at work Management and technology experts Thomas Davenport and Steven Miller show that contrary to widespread predictions prescriptions and denunciations AI is not primarily a job destroyer Rather AI changes the way we work by taking over some tasks but not entire jobs freeing people to do other more important and more challenging work By offering detailed real world case studies of AI augmented jobs in settings that range from finance to the factory floor Davenport and Miller also show that AI in the workplace is not the stuff of futuristic speculation It is happening now to many companies and workers These cases include a digital system for life insurance underwriting that analyzes applications and third party data in real time allowing human underwriters to focus on more complex cases an intelligent telemedicine platform with a chat based interface a machine learning system that identifies impending train maintenance issues by analyzing diesel fuel samples and Flippy a robotic assistant for fast food preparation For each one Davenport and Miller describe in detail the work context for the system interviewing job incumbents managers and technology vendors Short insight chapters draw out common themes and consider the implications of human collaboration with smart systems
