Mirror Daniela Rus, Gregory Mone, 2024-08-06 An exciting introduction to the true potential of AI from the director of MIT's Computer Science and Artificial Intelligence Laboratory Imagine a technology capable of discovering new drugs in days instead of years helping scientists map distant galaxies and decode the language of whales and aiding the rest of us in mundane daily tasks from drafting email responses to preparing dinner Now consider that this same technology poses risks to our jobs and society as a whole Artificial Intelligence is no longer science fiction it is upending our world today As advances in AI spark fear and confusion The Mind's Mirror reminds us that in spite of the very real and pressing challenges AI is a force with enormous potential to improve human life Computer scientist and AI researcher Daniela Rus along with science writer Gregory Mone offers an expert perspective as a leader in the field who has witnessed many technological hype cycles Rus and Mone illustrate the ways in which AI can help us become more productive knowledgeable creative insightful and even empathetic along with the many risks associated with misuse The Mind's Mirror shows readers how AI works and explores what we as individuals and as a society must do to mitigate dangerous outcomes and ensure a positive impact for as many people as possible The result is an accessible and lively exploration of the underlying technology and its limitations and possibilities a book that illuminates our possible futures in the hopes of forging the best path forward The International

Responsibility of States for AI-enabled Space Activities Stefan-Michael Wedenig, 2025-12-22 Artificial Intelligence AI has permeated our every day lives What once was solely a human task has now been taken over by AI May it be credit card approvals customer support financial transactions medical imaging or software development there is AI working behind the scenes Outer space historically always amongst the most developed domains has not remained untouched for long and space applications have started to increasingly rely on AI. However, this increase in use also leads to a myriad of legal issues, particularly the issue of responsibility and liability under Article VI and Article VII of the Outer Space Treaty and the Liability Convention. Our legal norms, whether they be domestic or international in nature, are ultimately built around human behaviour, and when applied to AI, might not function. Should damage caused by an AI-enabled space object arise, it proves difficult to assess the responsibility of the appropriate State party under Article VI of the Outer Space Treaty or the liability of the launching State. While legal literature is primarily concerned with domestic legal issues arising from the use of AI, an in-depth analysis concerning State responsibility and liability for AI-enabled space activities is absent. Space legal literature strongly favours a view advocating for the creation of new hard law in form of new binding legal instruments or the amendment of existing law. Suggestions de lege ferenda are often relied on by authors. Given the inherent difficulty in creating new law or amending existing legal instruments, this book proposes to look towards the lex lata and argues that the existing legal norms of State responsibility, State liability, and treaty law are sufficient to govern the responsibility of States for their AI-enabled space activities. The present research looks at these issues from a public international law perspective and proposes a solution within the lex lata.
