Developing Generic Support for Doctoral Students Susan Carter, Deborah Laurs, 2014-03-26 This multidisciplinary multi voiced book looks at the practice and pedagogy of generic across campus support for doctoral students With a global imperative for increased doctoral completions universities around the world are providing more generic support This book represents collegial cross fertilisation focussed on generic pedagogy provided by contributors who are practitioners working and researching at the pan disciplinary level which complements supervision In the UK funding for two weeks annual training in transferable skills for each doctoral scholarship recipient has caused an explosion of such teaching which is now flourishing elsewhere too for example endorsed by the Carnegie Initiative on the Doctorate in the USA and developed extensively in Australia Generic doctoral support is expanding yet is a relatively new kind of teaching practised extensively only in the last decade and with its own ethical practical and pedagogical complexities These raise a number of questions How is generic support funded and situated within institutions Should some sessions be compulsory for doctoral students Where do the boundaries lie between what can be taught generically or left to supervisors as discipline specific To what extent is generic work pastoral What are its main benefits Its challenges Its objectives Over the last two decades supervision has been investigated and theorised as a teaching practice a discussion this book extends to generic doctoral support This edited book has contributions from a wide range of authors and includes short inset narratives from academic authorities accumulatively enabling discussion of practice and the establishment of a benchmark for this growing topic Mentoring

Faculty of Color Dwayne Mack, Elwood D. Watson, Michelle Madsen Camacho, 2012-12-04 The 14 new essays in this collection from under represented faculty who teach at predominantly white colleges and universities discuss both the tenure and promotion experiences of faculty of color and are not racial ethnic gender cultural or discipline specific The book is thus not only for aspiring graduate students of color and faculty of color desirous of outside mentoring but also for administrators interested in the professional development and dilemmas of faculty of color Faculty of color describes how they navigated the complex terrain of higher education to achieve tenure or promotion Most of the contributors are at the associate professor stage of their careers and some hold the rank of full professor Freedom's Journal Jacqueline Bacon, 2007-01-01

Outstanding Academic Title Out of the hundreds of published slave narratives only a handful exist specific to South Carolina and most of these are not readily available to modern readers This collection restores to print seven slave narratives documenting the lived realities of slavery as it existed across the Palmetto State's upcountry midlands and lowcountry from plantation culture to urban servitude First published between the late eighteenth century and the dawn of the twentieth these richly detailed firsthand accounts present a representative cross section of slave experiences from religious awakenings and artisan apprenticeships to sexual exploitations and harrowing escapes In their distinctive individual voices narrators celebrate and mourn the lives of fellow slaves contemplate the meaning of freedom and share insights into the social patterns and cultural controls exercised during a turbulent period in American history Each narrative is preceded by an introduction to place its content and publication history in historical context The volume also features an afterword surveying other significant slave narratives and related historical documents on South Carolina I Belong to South Carolina reinserts a chorus of powerful voices of the dispossessed into South Carolina's public history reminding us of the cruelties of the past and the need for vigilant guardianship of liberty in the present and future I Belong to South Carolina is edited and introduced by Susanna Ashton with the assistance of Robyn E Adams Maximilien Blanton Laura V Bridges E Langston Culler Cooper Leigh Hill Deanna L Panetta and Kelly E Riddle

Composition, Rhetoric, and Disciplinarity Rita Malenczyk, Susan Miller-Cochran, Elizabeth Wardle, Kathleen Yancey, 2018-04-02 Edited by four nationally recognized leaders of composition scholarship Composition Rhetoric and Disciplinarity asks a fundamental question can Composition and Rhetoric as a discipline continue its historical commitment to pedagogy without sacrificing equal attention to other areas such as research and theory In response contributors to the volume address disagreements about what it means to be called a discipline rather than a profession or a field elucidate tensions over the defined breadth of Composition and Rhetoric and consider the roles of research and responsibility as Composition and Rhetoric shifts from field to discipline Outlining a field with a complex and unusual formation story Composition Rhetoric and Disciplinarity employs several lenses for understanding disciplinarity theory history labor and pedagogy and for teasing out the implications of disciplinarity for students faculty institutions and Composition and Rhetoric itself Collectively the chapters speak to the intellectual and embodied history leading to this point to questions about how disciplinarity is and might be understood especially with regard to Composition and Rhetoric to the curricular conceptual labor and other sites of tension inherent in thinking about Composition and Rhetoric as a discipline and to the implications of Composition and Rhetoric's disciplinarity for the future Contributors Linda Adler Kassner Elizabeth H Boquet Christiane Donahue Whitney Douglas Doug Downs Heidi Estrem Kristine Hansen Doug Hesse Sandra Jamieson Neal Lerner Jennifer Helene Maher Barry Maid Jaime Armin Mejia Carolyn R Miller Kelly Myers Gwendolynne Reid Liane Robertson Rochelle Rodrigo Dawn Shepherd Kara Taczak
