Contrast And Commonality Between English And German In System And Text:

Cross-Linguistic Variation in System and Text Elke Teich, 2012-02-13 The intuition that translations are somehow different from texts that are not translations has been around for many years but most of the common linguistic frameworks are not comprehensive enough to account for the wealth and complexity of linguistic phenomena that make a translation a special kind of text The present book provides a novel methodology for investigating the specific linguistic properties of translations As this methodology is both corpus based and driven by a functional theory of language it is powerful enough to account for the multi dimensional nature of cross linguistic variation in translations and cross linguistically comparable texts

Conjunctive Markers of Contrast in English and French Maïté Dupont, 2021-06-15 Situated at the interface between corpus linguistics and Systemic Functional Linguistics this volume focuses on conjunctive markers expressing contrast in English and French The frequency and placement patterns of the markers are analysed using large corpora of texts from two written registers newspaper editorials and research articles The corpus study revisits the long standing but largely unsubstantiated claim that French requires more explicit markers of cohesive conjunction than English and shows that the opposite is in fact the case Novel insights into the placement preferences of English and French conjunctive markers are provided by a new approach to theme and rheme that attaches more importance to the rheme than previous studies The study demonstrates the significant benefits of a combined corpus and Systemic Functional Linguistics approach to the cross linguistic analysis of cohesion

Recent Advances in Corpus Linguistics Lieven Vandelandotte, Kristin Davidse, Caroline Gentens, Ditte Kimpes, 2014-08-15 This book is a selection of studies presented at the 33rd International Conference of the International Computer Archive of Modern and Medieval English ICAME hosted by the University of Leuven 30 May 3 June 2012 The strictly refereed and extensively revised contributions collected here represent recent advances in corpus linguistics both in the development of specialist corpora and in ways of exploiting them for specific purposes The first part focuses on Corpus development and corpus interrogation and features papers on the compilation of new highly specialized corpora which aim to fill gaps in historical databases and on new ways of extracting relevant patterns automatically from computerized datasets The second part devoted to Specialist corpora presents detailed descriptive studies on grammatical patterns in World Englishes on neology and using a contrastive approach on prepositions and cohesive conjunctions The third and final part on Second language acquisition groups together studies situated at the intersection of corpus linguistics and educational linguistics and dealing with markers of relevance and lesser relevance in lectures deceptive cognates the automatic annotation of native and non native uses of demonstrative this and that and measuring learners progress in speech and in writing Each contribution in its own way reports on novel ways of getting mileage out of specialist corpora and collectively the contributions attest to the rude health of computerized corpus linguistic studies
