Control And Subversion Gender Relations In Tajikistan:

Control and Subversion Colette Harris, 2004-03-20 Explores gender relations in Muslim societies using post Soviet Tajikistan as a central case study Encyclopedia of Women & Islamic Cultures Suad Joseph, Afsāna Nağmābādī, 2003 Family Body Sexuality and Health is Volume III of the Encyclopedia of Women Islamic Cultures In almost 200 well written entries it covers the broad field of family body sexuality and health and Islamic cultures Post-Conflict Tajikistan John Heathershaw, 2009-05-07 The book provides a critical analysis of why peace has been consolidated in Tajikistan and what role international peacebuilding has had in this It will be of interest to academics working on Peace Studies International Relations and Central Asian Studies Paradoxes of Migration in Tajikistan Elena Borisova, 2024-05-28 Paradoxes of Migration in Tajikistan is the first ethnographic monograph on migration in Tajikistan one of the most remittance dependent countries in the world Moving beyond economic push pull narratives about post Soviet migration it foregrounds the experiences of those who stay put in the sending society and struggle to reproduce their moral communities Elena Borisova examines the role of mobility in historical and cultural ideas about the good life and how it becomes entwined with people's efforts to become good moral and modern subjects Addressing the complex relationship between the economic imaginative and moral aspects of mobility she shows that mass migration from Tajikistan is as much a project of navigating ethical personhood as it is a quest for economic resources This book reveals how transnational regimes and structures of mobility citizenship and histories map out in the intimate spheres of the body the person and the family It is a contribution to contemporary migration research which is mostly centred on Europe and North America and to the field of Central Asian studies It will be of interest to researchers of migration mobility and citizenship and to scholars of all disciplines working on Central Asia Praise for Paradoxes of Migration in Tajikistan In this vivid and poignant ethnography grounded in an intimate portrait of life in northern Tajikistan Borisova shows how migration is much more than a response to economic necessity Taking us from homes and wedding halls to passport offices and border posts Borisova illuminates migration as an ethical project inseparable from the search for a good life an argument of profound relevance for scholars of migration as well as for students of anthropology Madeleine Reeves University of Oxford This deeply researched account of the lived experience of migration between Tajikistan and Russia is a must read for all those interested in Central Asia and the migratory experience more generally This remarkable book is a testament to anthropology's relevance for understanding some of the most pressing issues and sensitive world regions of the present era Magnus Marsden University of Sussex Paradoxes of Migration in Tajikistan is a masterful account of migrants mobility between Tajikistan and Russia Carefully examining how people live their lives on the move under difficult conditions Borisova's lucidly written book is set to become a landmark study in the anthropology of migration Till Mostowlansky Geneva Graduate Institute An amazing book Borisova offers a rich fieldwork based account of life in the North of Tajikistan which is also a delightful read This work requires a substantial rethinking about how we conceptualise and think of mobility and migration. Paying attention to the politics of care and ethical struggles the book helps a reader to understand what migration is and how it is weaved into everyday fabric of life in Tajikistan. Malika Bahovadinova, University of Amsterdam.

Globalization on the Margins (2nd Edition) Iveta Silova, Sarfarozi Niyozov, 2020-01-01. Reflecting on almost three decades of postsocialist transformations the second edition of Globalization on the Margins explores continuities and changes in Central Asian education development since the dissolution of the Soviet Union in 1991 with a particular focus on the developments that took place since the production of the first edition in 2011. Rather than viewing these transformations in isolation the authors place their analyses within the global context by reflecting on the interaction between Soviet legacies and global education reform pressures in the Central Asian countries of Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, Tajikistan, Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan. This new edition in addition to a revised introduction and a newly added conclusion consists of four thematic sections each reflecting a key theme in the educational life of the Central Asian states. These thematic sections introduction and conclusion collectively update our understanding of the recent developments and challenges in education of the five Central Asian states. They however go beyond mere information update so as to complicate re-engage re-form and re-define the margins taking up margins a conceptual geographic cultural and geo-political construct. Notwithstanding the diversity of local and international authors variety of theoretical perspectives methodological approaches and conceptual lenses the essays reveal the complexity and uncertainty of the post-socialist education transformations. Instead of portraying the transition process as the influx of Western ideas into the region Globalization on the Margins provides new lenses to critically examine education as a contested field of diverse perspectives competing forces and multidirectional flow of ideas concepts and reforms in Central Asia.

ENDORSEMENTS

Hindsight famously brings clarity. And much of what happened after the fall of the Berlin Wall and the collapse of the Soviet Union has now been correctly handed over to historians. Nonetheless we ignore that history at our peril. The contributors to this volume show that carefully textured and historically attuned education research generates deep insights into ongoing transformations and the political cultural social and economic structures relations and practices that do the work of producing margins and centers in the first place. Noah W. Sobe, Loyola University Chicago.

Globalization on the Margins and at the epicentre of the battles of the Great Powers. Two excellent educators Sarfarozi Niyozov and Iveta Silova compiled a timely and long awaited scholarly work based on empirical research in societies which had similar history close to three decades ago. All the contributors are prolific educators who know the education system from within and without who either hailed from the region or have spent a considerable amount of time to know the systems well. The book contains remarkable stories of education through the ups and downs of historical evolution. It is a must read primer for anyone interested in learning about high quality research in the field of education in Central Asia. It is a huge contribution to educational research with an impact on research and teaching for years to come. Duishon Shamatov, Nazarbayev University, Kazakhstan.

The challenge of moving Central Asia from the borders of the Soviet Empire to the world's center is the focus of the discussions in Globalization on the Margins. The transition to the Western models of education was happening in the context of major paradigm shift which entire humanity was experiencing and which could be described as the arrival of the new post industrial civilization. During this process Central Asian countries have been pushed to the margins because their contribution to the wealth of the new world know how was much less pronounced than that of their Western neighbours. Therefore investment into the research that contributes to local knowledge production seems a natural solution to the problem. All the contributors to this book have a vast experience in the region and many of their observations are thought provoking. This is a very insightful and much needed book. Elena Lenskaya, Moscow School of Social and Economic Sciences, Russia.

Education in Central Asia Denise Egéa, 2020-09-14 This book brings together internationally prominent scholars renowned for their work on post Soviet republics as well as outstanding emerging scholars native of Central Asia in order to discuss the state of education in the Central Asian Republics of Kazakhstan Kyrgyzstan Tajikistan Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan. Drawing on their individual contexts and research the authors offer analyses and critiques of some of the social political and economic issues in education in their respective countries and some insights about how local actions engage with the challenges and problems as well as with the possibilities and opportunities they face. Since gaining their independence in 1991 the five republics of Central Asia have been undergoing some enormous political social linguistic cultural and economic changes even as we write. This collection shows that researchers are increasingly interested in exploring the development of education in this part of the world. In these countries education plays a significant role in transitioning from centrally planned to market economies and is seen as the key resource to facilitate entry into the global competitiveness sphere. This book will be of particular interest to educators researchers and policy makers engaged in research or with a particular interest in curricula and education systems and reforms and to undergraduate and graduate students studying and researching education in Central Asia or in other post Soviet contexts.

Being Muslim in Central Asia, 2018-01-03 This volume explores the changing place of Islam in contemporary Central Asia understanding religion as a societal shaper a roadmap for navigating quickly evolving social and cultural values. Islam can take on multiple colors and identities from a purely transcendental faith in God to a cauldron of ideological ferment for political ideology via diverse culture community and history based phenomena. The volume discusses what it means to be a Muslim in today's Central Asia by looking at both historical and sociological features investigates the relationship between Islam politics and the state the changing role of Islam in terms of societal values and the issue of female attire as a public debate. The Transformation of Tajikistan John Heathershaw, Edmund

Herzig, 2013-09-13 Tajikistan is one of the lesser known and least researched former Soviet Central Asian republics. The birth of the new state in 1991 was followed closely by a civil war which killed more than 50 000 people and displaced many tens of thousands more. While a peace agreement was signed in 1997, significant political violence continued until 2001 and intermittent outbreaks still occur today. Many claim it remains a very weak state and perhaps in danger of state failure or a return to civil war. However, the revival of Tajikistan should not simply be seen in terms of its post conflict stabilization. Since its creation as a republic of the Soviet Union in 1920s, Tajikistan has been transformed from being a shell for socialist engineering to become a national society under a modern state. Despite a multitude of economic, social and political shocks, the Republic of Tajikistan endures. This book places the transformation of Tajikistan in its Soviet and Post Soviet historical settings and local and global contexts. It explores the sources of a state with Soviet roots but which has been radically transformed by independence and its exposure to global politics and economics. The authors address the sources of statehood in history, Islam and secularism, gender relations, the economy, international politics and security affairs. This book is a new edition of a special issue of Central Asian Survey. Tajikistan: the sources of statehood, including two additional papers and a revised introduction. International Journal of Comparative and Applied Criminal Justice, 2008. Traders and Trade Routes of Central and Inner Asia. Michael Gervers, Uradyn Erden Bulag, Gillian Long, 2007. Gender and Development: Aspects of culture and health. Janet Henshall Momsen, 2008. Encyclopedia of the Peoples of Asia and Oceania. Barbara A. West, 2009. Encyclopedia of the Peoples of Asia and Oceania is a new two volume A to Z reference to the peoples of the Asia Pacific region east of the Caspian Sea, not including the countries of the Middle East. More than 400 entries cover the major peoples that for a time maintained a cultural identity in the area from ancient to modern times, describing their history, migration, culture, belief system, social organization and relationship to other peoples. This accessible resource makes it easy for students to find not only entries on the Han and Jurchens but also on Chinese nationality, describing who they are today with cross references to the various ancestral peoples. Entries on all large or well known groups include information on their geography, origins, languages, history and culture. Subsections cover such topics as subsistence, religion, social and political structures, economy, government, military practices, dwellings and architecture, clothing, transportation, technology, art, music and literature. The back matter includes a chronology, bibliography and comprehensive index as well as several appendixes with useful background information on topics such as kinship systems, religious systems and subsistence systems. From Mogadishu to Dixon. Abdi Kusow, Stephanie R. Bjork, 2007. For nearly two decades and particularly since the civil war, Somali men, women and sometimes even children without family fled the country in droves. This book represents the first attempt to map the social and cultural contours of the Somali diaspora in a global context. Using case studies from Somali communities in Africa, Europe and North America, the contributors to this volume construct a global framework for studying the Somali diaspora, comparing dispersed Somalis in different cultural, economic
