Contexts Of Ageing Class Cohort And Community:

Contexts of Ageing Chris Gilleard, Paul Higgs, 2005-09-02 Drawing on a wide range of sources this text analyses the social nature of later life in the context of the history of welfare states the emergence of consumer society and across the lifecourse

Working-Class Community in the Age of Affluence Stefan Ramsden, 2017-02-24 It has appeared to many commentators that the most fundamental change in what it is meant to be working class in twentieth century Britain came not as a result of war or of want but of prosperity Social investigators documented how the relative affluence of the 1950s and 1960s improved the material conditions of life for working class Britons whilst eroding their commitment to the shared life of traditional communities Utilising an oral history case study of sociability and identity in the Yorkshire town of Beverley between the end of the Second World War and the election of Margaret Thatcher's government Working Class Community in the Age of Affluence challenges this influential narrative An introductory essay outlines how sociologists and historians understood the complex social cultural and economic changes of the post war decades through the prism of affluence and traces how these changes came to be seen as deleterious to the traditional working class community The book then proceeds thematically exploring change across areas of social life including family neighbourhood workplace and associational life This book represents the first sustained historical analysis of change and continuity in working class community living during the age of affluence It suggests not only that older social practices persisted but also that new patterns of sociability could strengthen as much as undermine community Ultimately Working Class Community in the Age of Affluence asks us to rethink assumptions about the decline of local solidarities in this pivotal period and to recognise community as a key feature of working class life across the twentieth century

Managing the Ageing Experience Denise Tanner, 2010 A book which truly makes older people's experiences central to understanding how best policy makers and practitioners might promote well being in later life

The Social World of Older People Christina Victor, Sasha Scambler, John Bond, 2009 Providing an account of loneliness and social isolation as experienced by older people living in Britain this book considers the incidence and effects of isolation and loneliness identifying the factors which lead to such experiences and considering potential interventions

Residential Care Transformed Julia Johnson, Sheena Rolph, Randall Smith, 2010-05-28 Residential care homes are an important resource for older people yet they remain stigmatized and under valued Drawing on data deposited at the University of Essex UK this book revisits Peter Townsend's classic study of residential care in England and Wales The Last Refuge published in 1962 With the help of a hundred older volunteer researchers the authors traced what happened to the 173 homes that Townsend visited They also revisited 20 of the surviving local authority voluntary and private homes so as to compare them then and now Written in an engaging and accessible style the book straddles the boundary between history and sociology and reviews the policy context and the history of research into residential care for older people over the last 50 years provides new insights into the continuing history of residential care for older people about what kinds of homes have survived and why makes comparisons between particular homes today and in the past demonstrating not only substantial changes but also strong continuities reveals persisting inequalities in the standard of care home provision in the early 2000s in England and Wales and discusses the ethical and practical challenges involved in designing a revisiting study reusing archived data and in engaging older people as volunteer researchers The book includes some previously unpublished photographs from the Peter Townsend Collection which when set beside those taken in the early 21st century illustrate not only continuity and change in residential care but also in visual representations of older people Quest,2007 The Book Review Digest ,2007 Advances in Contemplative Science Javier

Garcia-Campayo,Roberto Aristegui,Jesus Montero-Marin,2025-02-03 Over the last twenty years a great amount of research has been conducted in the field of Contemplative Science CS considered a crossroads between contemplative spiritual traditions and neuroscience This is a relatively heterogeneous discipline that includes quite different techniques mindfulness compassion body mind techniques etc distinct approaches from secular to religious traditions Buddhism Vedanta shamanism monotheistic religions etc and different sets of terminology that frequently require clarification One of the more challenging features of CS is its methodology given the difficulty involved in assessing its introspection dimension The consequence of all these aspects is that CS has become one of the newest and most interesting fields of research in psychology Book and Caring presents a vivid picture of the changing patterns of help giving and help receiving in an urban neighborhood as seen through the eyes of older lifelong residents Born and raised in closely defined ethnic neighborhoods these residents are experiencing change both on the widest social and economic scale and seeing new fundamental change in ethnic and social diversity in their own neighborhood Schreck in this valuable study raises crucial issues concerning urban life ethnic interaction and aging in American cities today Loose-leaf Version for Developing Person Through the Life Span Kathleen

Stassen Berger, 2014-05-12 With Kathleen Stassen Berger's always contemporary always compelling textbook students learn to see how the basic ideas of developmental psychology apply to their own lives the lives of those around them and the lives of others of all life stages and in cultures all around the world Berger's narrative voice wide ranging cultural perspective and focus on universal themes captivate students from the outset helping them grasp the important theoretical and scientific work driving the field of developmental psychology today Environment and Aging Theory Rick J. Scheidt, Paul G.

Windley, 1998-04-16 Noted scholars of environment aging relations and environmental psychology examine the value of selected classic contemporary and in one instance completely new theories for enhancing both research and service provision on housing for elderly populations The contributors examine the housing needs of older populations and provide theory driven innovative solutions for improving the fit between older persons and their residential environments Some issues covered are the need for greater understanding of the psychological needs of older individuals seeking environmental support for a holistic understanding of elder environment relations in physical social and phenomenological contexts for inclusion of ignored perspectives and for recognition of the continuing value of major founding theories This book will be of interest to students scholars and professionals in psychology gerontology environmental policy housing and social services

Encyclopedia of Gerontology: L-Z [and] Index, 1996 A comprehensive source that offers a multidisciplinary overview of all aspects of aging Opportunities and Challenges in an Ageing Society Wim J. A. van den Heuvel, Raymond Illsley, Anne Jamieson, C. P. M. Knipscheer, 1992 Paperback This is a reflection on the ageing societies in the Western World It is organised in three parts the first on social relationships family and ageing the second on the labour market retirement and the pension system and the last part on health care and ageing The emphasis is on the opportunities and challenges and not on the problems of an ageing society In contrast to many studies in this area the editors do not like to dramatise the future of ageing societies and prefer to look at the process in proportion The editors are of the opinion that there is a cumulation of negative scenarios without any perspective on the possible opportunities because of the changing age structure of society The

Transformation of Community-based Long Term Care Elizabeth A. Binney, 1995 Abstracts of the Annual Meeting -- American Anthropological Association American Anthropological Association, 1996 Families in Later Life Lillian

Sousa, 2009 This book aims to help provide an understanding of the relationship between the elderly generation and the multigenerational families they belong to through an analysis of family and individual development in later life and a study of the structural and functional complexion of the multigenerational family the basic unit of analysis The increase of life expectancy and the consequent later ageing of the population is making Western families undergo considerable changes The demographic ageing of societies is increasing the number of living generations and decreasing the number of living relatives within these generations These ageing societies are also seeing a changing of some traditional life transitions such as individuals delaying economic independence from parents marriage or long term cohabitation as well as parenting Themes discussed in this book are 1 multigenerational families are now commonplace in the western countries 2 legacies and inheritance are an important theme for the integrity of families in later lives since the increase of welfare states the economic importance of inheritance decreases 3 a substantial proportion of elderly persons and their families live in poverty having to deal with the diminishing of their sensorial and physical capacities as well as lower income and higher medical expenses 4 families have to combine the care giving of elderly relatives with the care taking of their own children and a professional career 5 counselling becomes an important factor for older adults since many families issue then arise
