Contrastive Rhetoric Revisited And Redefined:

Contrastive Rhetoric Revisited and Redefined Clayann Gilliam Panetta, 2000 The theory of contrastive rhetoric was first put forth by Robert Kaplan in the mid 1960s to explain the differences in writing and discourse between students who were native speakers of English and their international counterparts Over the past three decades contrastive rhetoric theory has been used primarily by linguists in language centers and involved in ESL teaching As the number of international students in American universities has continued to grow contrastive rhetoric has become increasingly relevant to all disciplines and to rhetoric and composition in particular This volume breaks important new ground in its examination of contrastive rhetoric in the exclusive context of composition The editor has assembled contributors with varying areas of specialty to demonstrate how the traditional definition of contrastive rhetoric theory can be applied to composition in new and innovative ways and how it can be redefined through the lens of addressing difference issues in writing Thus the volume as a whole clarifies how the basic principles of contrastive rhetoric theory can help composition instructors to understand writing and rhetorical decisions With the inclusion of current research on multicultural issues this collection is appropriate for all instructors in ESL writing including teachers in rhetoric composition and linguistics It can also be used as an advanced text for students in these areas Wherever it is employed it is certain to offer significant new insights into the application of contrastive rhetoric within the composition discipline

Exploring the Dynamics of Second Language Writing Barbara Kroll, 2003-04-14 A collection of 13 original articles this book is intended to provide a series of discussions about multiple aspects of second language writing presenting chapters that collectively address a range of issues that are important to new teachers at the post secondary level The chapters provide scholarly visions insight and interpretation oriented toward explaining the field of teaching academic writing to non native speakers The book is designed to provide foundational content knowledge in this area each chapter authored by recognized experts in the field Throughout the chapters presentation and review of scholarship is presented primarily in the interest of understanding how such knowledge directly or potentially impart teaching making this a pedagogically relevant book In addition to helping train new teachers the book will serve as an updated reference book for practicing teachers and scholars to consult

Solving Problems in Technical Communication Johndan Johnson-Eilola, Stuart A. Selber, 2024-05-31 The field of technical communication is rapidly expanding in both the academic world and the private sector yet a problematic divide remains between theory and practice Here Stuart A Selber and Johndan Johnson Eilola both respected scholars and teachers of technical communication effectively bridge that gap Solving Problems in Technical Communication collects the latest research and theory in the field and applies it to real world problems faced by practitioners problems involving ethics intercultural communication new media and other areas that determine the boundaries of the discipline The book is structured in four parts offering an overview of the field situating it historically and culturally reviewing various theoretical approaches to technical communication and examining how the field can be advanced by drawing on diverse perspectives Timely informed and practical Solving Problems in Technical Communication will be an essential tool for undergraduates and graduate students as they begin the transition from classroom to career

Challenging Tradition Perry Shaw,Havilah Dharamraj,2018-03-31 The surge of theological education in the rapidly growing church of the Majority World has highlighted the inadequacy of traditional Western methods of thinking and learning to fully accomplish the task at hand The limitations of current theological education are embodied in the formation and assessment of the master s or doctoral dissertation processes that follow a linear empiricist tradition developed in the West and exported to the Majority World Challenging Tradition Innovation in Advanced Theological Studies highlights the need for these traditions to be reconsidered in every context throughout the world Drs Shaw and Dharamraj with their team of contributors present innovations in research and documentation that demonstrate how we may better prepare theological leadership through means that are contextually relevant and locally meaningful

Controversies in Second Language Writing Christine Pearson Casanave,2004 Controversies in Second Language Writing is not a how to book but one that focuses on how teachers in L2 writing can be helped to make reasoned decisions by understanding some of the key issues and conflicting opinions about L2 writing research and pedagogy This book will assist teachers in making informed decisions about teaching writing in the ESL classroom To counteract some of the debates Casanave explores the different sides of the arguments and provides examples of how other teachers have dealt with these issues The book presents novice and seasoned teachers with thought provoking issues and questions to consider when determining and reflecting on their own teaching strategies and criteria Topics discussed include contrastive rhetoric product vs process fluency and accuracy assessment of student work audience plagiarism politics and ideology

Intercultural Competence Myron W. Lustig,Jolene Koester,2006 Striking a unique balance between skills and theory

Intercultural Competence provides readers with the background and confidence to succeed in today's multicultural environment. Blending both the practical and theoretical, the concrete and abstract, this book is both enjoyable to read and thoroughly researched. By clearly explaining different theories and the significance of cultural patterns and having readers practice what they learn via examples in the book, Intercultural Competence better prepares readers to interact in intercultural relationships. The book also provides a discussion of important ethical and social issues relating to intercultural communication. The authors cover U.S. cultures as well as global cultural issues. ESL Writers Shanti Bruce, 2004. Finally a book written for writing center tutors who assist ESL students. Combining practical tutoring advice with insights that build cultural bridges, ESL Writers helps tutors create a more meaningful and effective exchange between themselves and nonnative English speakers. ESL Writers is divided into three parts. Cultural Contexts examines many of the challenges students face as they become proficient speakers and writers of English. The ESL Tutoring Session focuses on individual meetings with students whose primary language is not English. Packed with helpful tips and new perspectives on familiar routines, this section demonstrates strategies likely to be effective with nonnative speakers. A Broader View adds depth and breadth to the discussion by demonstrating how writing centers abroad operate, offering insights into the rules and conventions of English and sharing the stories of ESL students who visit the writing center. For tutors, this indispensable guide gives them the know-how to make better informed choices as they conduct sessions with ESL students. For writing center directors, ESL Writers is the perfect training text, and its examples and scenarios are the ideal jumping-off point for staff meetings and group problem-solving sessions. Current Contents Institute for Scientific Information (Philadelphia), 2001. AfroGEEKS Anna Everett, Amber J.
