Contributions To The Archaeology And Ethnohistory Of Greater Mesoamerica:

Contributions to the Archaeology and Ethnohistory of Greater Mesoamerica William J. Folan, 1985 The essays in this book present the integrated application of prehistoric ethno historic and ethnographic data center ing on the interpretation of past and present peoples residing in Greater Meso america These groups at some time in their existence had much in common a corn bean and squash farming base permanent villages with plazas public religious structures and well developed ceremonialism involving astronomical ceremonial concepts including calen drics They form an area designated by scholars as the Continental Core of North Central America Each essay offers a methodological ap proach or the documentation leading to a better understanding of such aspects of Greater Mesoamerica as climate cultural history and sociopolitical organization Contributors include Roman Pi a Chan William J Folan Basil C Hedrick J Charles Kelley Burma H Hyde Gabriel DeCicco Michael W Spence Phil C Weigand Jay K Johnson Charles D Trombold Jr Joseph B Mountjoy Dale P Smith Harold Franklin McGee Jr and Jonathan E Reyman Ancient Road Networks and Settlement Hierarchies in the New World Charles D. Trombold, 1991-11-28 The presence of ancient road networks in the New World is a puzzle because they predate the use of wheeled transport vehicles But whatever their diverse functions may have been they remain the only tangible indication of how extinct American societies were regionally organised Contributors to this volume originally published in 1991 describe past studies of prehispanic roads in the southwestern United States Mexico Central and South America paying special attention to their significance for economic and political organisation as well as regional communication Resources, Power, and Interregional Interaction Edward M. Schortman, Patricia A. Urban, 2013-03-09 Archaeological research on interregional interaction processes has recently reasserted itself after a long hiatus following the eclipse of diffusion studies This rebirth was marked not only by a sudden increase in publications that were focused on interac tion questions but also by a diversity of perspectives on past contacts To perdurable interests in warfare were added trade studies by the late 1960s These viewpoints in turn were rapidly joined in the late 1970s by a wide range of intellectual schemes stimulated by developments in French Marxism referred to in various ways termed political ideology here and sociology Immanuel Wallerstein s world systems model Researchers ascribing to the aforementioned intellectual frameworks were united in their dissatisfaction with attempts to explain sociopolitical change that treated in dividual cultures or societies as isolated entities Only by reconstructing the complex intersocietal networks in which polities were integrated the natures of these ties who mediated the connections and the political economic and ideological significance of the goods and ideas that moved along them could adequate ex planations of sociopolitical shifts be formulated Archaeologists seemed to be re discovering in the late twentieth century the importance of interregional contacts in processes of sociopolitical change The diversity of perspectives that resulted seemed to be symptomatic of both an uncertainty of how best to approach this topic and the importance archaeologists attributed to it Heritage of Power Kristi

Butterwick,2004 Diverse environments from low lying marshlands to naturally terraced hillsides to rugged mountains of pine and oak forest afforded many opportunities for well being to the inhabitants of what are now the modern Mexican states of Colima Jalisco and Nayarit In the seven hundred year period between 300 B C and A D 400 local hierarchies flourished power was concentrated in increasingly fewer hands and the wealthier members of the communities established family lineages that remained intact for many generations The compelling importance of place and family is reflected in the size locations and contents of the major tombs of that period often situated near or under dwellings these were deeply buried shaft and chamber tombs One set of conjoined tombs excavated in 1993 at the site of Huitzilapa in the Magdalena basin of northern Jalisco held six personages five of whom were close family relatives Well over one hundred ceramic works accompanied the interred together with conch shell trumpets tens of thousands of shell beads and objects of jade obsidian and quartz testifying to the family s wealth Many of the ceramic objects were vessels and bowls for food and drink but there were large three dimensional human figures as well among them one depicting a ballplayer The focus of Heritage of Power Ancient Sculpture from West Mexico The Andrall E Pearson Family Collection consists of over forty of these artistically appealing figures which represent all three of the major styles and sub styles that make up the body of West Mexican ceramic sculpture named for the states of Colima Jalisco and Nayarit Included are an introductory illustrated essay catalogue entries that discuss each of the works in detail all of them shown in color and often in multiple views and a selected bibliography BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved
