The Promise and Performance of Environmental Conflict

Resolution Rosemary O'Leary, Lisa B. Bingham, 2003 Environmental conflict resolution ECR is a process of negotiation that allows stakeholders in a dispute to reach a mutually satisfactory agreement on their own terms The tools of ECR such as facilitation mediation and conflict assessment suggest that it fits well with other ideas for reforming environmental policy First used in 1974 ECR has been an official part of policymaking since the mid 1990s This is the first book to evaluate systematically the results of these efforts The contributions to this book critically investigate the record and potential of ECR drawing on perspectives from political science public administration regional planning philosophy psychology anthropology and law

Conflict and Resolution Barbara A. Nagle-Lechman, 2008 Conflict and Resolution Second Edition provides students with a working knowledge of the major forms of dispute resolution Through the use of hands on exercises and role playing scenarios theory is put into practice allowing students to translate lessons learned into true to life situations This newly revised text offers the following provides an overview of negotiation mediation and arbitration in a short accessible book well designed pedagogy for the paralegal students including chapter summaries and exercises designed to engage students in application of what they have learned includes role plays to allow students to experience how the theories of dispute resolution are used in practice ethical issues thoroughly covered The Second Edition offers an even clearer presentation of the three major approaches to mediation facilitative evaluative and transformative on line negotiation and mediation will be included new topics including restorative justice and victim offender mediation expanded materials on arbitration chapter on Conflict has been expanded to include different conflict styles
