Confronting Authority Reflections Of An Ardent Protester:

Confronting Authority Derrick Bell, 1994 Describing a protest at Harvard that cost him his tenured position the author tells stories about others who have challenged authority and examines the value of protest in protecting one's sense of self worth Reprint NYT K PW Seeing Race Again Kimberlé Williams Crenshaw, Luke Charles Harris, Daniel Martinez HoSang, George Lipsitz, 2019-02-05 Every academic discipline has an origin story complicit with white supremacy Racial hierarchy and colonialism structured the very foundations of most disciplines research and teaching paradigms In the early twentieth century the academy faced rising opposition and correction evident in the intervention of scholars including W E B Du Bois Zora Neale Hurston Carter G Woodson and others By the mid twentieth century education itself became a center in the struggle for social justice Scholars mounted insurgent efforts to discredit some of the most odious intellectual defenses of white supremacy in academia but the disciplines and their keepers remained unwilling to interrogate many of the racist foundations of their fields instead embracing a framework of racial colorblindness as their default position This book challenges scholars and students to see race again Examining the racial histories and colorblindness in fields as diverse as social psychology the law musicology literary studies sociology and gender studies Seeing Race Again documents the profoundly contradictory role of the academy in constructing naturalizing and reproducing racial hierarchy It shows how colorblindness compromises the capacity of disciplines to effectively respond to the wide set of contemporary political economic and social crises marking public life today The Crisis , 1994-11 The Crisis founded by W E B Du Bois as the official publication of the NAACP is a journal of civil rights history politics and culture and seeks to educate and challenge its readers about issues that continue to plague African Americans and other communities of color For nearly 100 years The Crisis has been the magazine of opinion and thought leaders decision makers peacemakers and justice seekers It has chronicled informed educated entertained and in many instances set the economic political and social agenda for our nation and its multi ethnic citizens Harvard Blackletter Law Journal , 1995 Confronting Authority Derrick Bell, 1994 In the fall of 1992 Derrick Bell professor of law and bestselling author was fired from his tenured position at Harvard rather than end his protest over the law school's continuing failure to tenure any women of color His story is a searing example of the travesty of tokenism and the tenacity of institutional power Yale Law School and the Sixties Laura Kalman, 2006-05-18 The development of the modern Yale Law School is deeply intertwined with the story of a group of students in the 1960s who worked to unlock democratic visions of law and social change that they associated with Yale's past and with the social climate in which they lived During a charged moment in the history of the United States activists challenged senior professors and the resulting clash pitted young against old in a very human story By demanding changes in admissions curriculum grading and law practice Laura Kalman argues these students transformed Yale Law School and the future of American legal education Inspired by Yale's legal realists of the 1930s Yale law students between 1967 and 1970 spawned a movement that celebrated participatory democracy black power feminism and the counterculture After these students left the repercussions hobbled the school for years Senior law professors decided against retaining six junior scholars who had witnessed their conflict with the students in the early 1970s shifted the school's academic focus from sociology to economics and steered clear of critical legal studies Ironically explains Kalman students of the 1960s helped to create a culture of timidity until an imaginative dean in the 1980s tapped into and domesticated the spirit of the sixties helping to make Yale's current celebrity possible

Recent Acquisitions Ohio State University. College of Law. Library, 1995 Faculty of Color Christine A. Stanley, 2006-06-15 This book provides a discussion forum for the experiences of faculty of color teaching in predominantly white institutions The knowledge and insights gained from the narratives shared across a variety of colleges and universities provide faculty and administrators in higher education with helpful strategies for recruitment and retention. The experiences documented here extend beyond teaching in general to other areas such as administration, institutional climate, mentoring, recruitment relationships with colleagues and students, and research. More importantly, the chapters offer a variety of recommendations so that predominantly white colleges and universities can continue to ensure that institutions change in substantive ways. A hallmark of this book is the diversity of knowledge, firsthand experiences, and insights provided by the faculty of color who contributed to it. The authors represent a variety of cultures, ethnicities, identities, and nationalities: African American, American Indian, Asian, Asian American, Chamorro, Jamaican, Latina, Latino, Mexican, American, South African, Muslim, as well as disciplines: business, dentistry, education, engineering, ethnic studies, health education, political science, psychology, public policy, social justice, social work, sociology, and speech, language, and hearing science. This book also has the potential to impact the dialogue in academia on affirmative action and the institutional goal of achieving parity so that the faculty ranks in higher education mirror the minority talent represented in the nation. Faculty of Color makes recommendations for faculty development, instructional development, and organizational development practice and raises issues for commentary and investigation.

Afrolantica Legacies Derrick Bell, 1998 Bell is still deeply interested in issues of race relations and has chosen to explore the subject fictionally in Afrolantica Legacies. In a nutshell, the story goes like this: a mysterious land mass suddenly appears in the Atlantic Ocean, a fabulous island on which only black people can survive. American blacks set sail to the island to begin a new life, only to see it sink again before they can reach the shore.

Roads to Dystopia Stanford M. Lyman, 2001 If the postmodern condition is a dystopia characterized by alienation and despair, argues distinguished sociologist Stanford Lyman, postmodern epistemologies compound the problem by denigrating Enlightenment philosophies that still offer agency and hope to those who struggle to be free. In this, his sixth volume in the Studies in American Sociology series, Lyman examines this contradiction as it has shaped American discourses on race and community, asking why Gunnar Myrdal's American Dilemma is still unresolved, how Chinese workers have fared in the labor movement and in labor history, what searches for the lost tribes of Israel have meant socially and historically, how cinema has offered metaphors for social action but presented failed utopias on screen, and how we have not yet established a basic definition of the good life. In each of these instances, Lyman seeks new routes in the quest for justice.
