Twentieth Century Thinkers in Adult and Continuing Education Jarvis Peter, 2001-03-01 An examination of the work of 17 major thinkers in the field of adult and continuing education showing how each has made a significant contribution to the field The ideas of each are explored within a similar framework and their work and its consequences is considered in detail Confronting Controversies in Challenging Times Michael W. Galbraith, Burton R. Sisco, 1992-09-22 Most any profession and associated practice is marked by certain controversies or vexing issues This is true not only of well established professions such as medicine but also of developing professions such as adult and continuing education Today as never before adult and continuing educators are dealing with a panoply of issues that have an impact on both the knowledge base and professional practice of the discipline This volume of New Directions for Adult and Continuing Education presents a variety of perspectives on some of the more Anduring controversies of our times so as to encourage improved practice in adult and continuing education This is the 54th issue of New Directions for Adult and Continuing Education For more information on this series please see the Journals and Periodicals page Understanding and Negotiating the Political Landscape of Adult Education Catherine A. Hansman, Peggy A. Sissel, 2001-10-17 The political landscape of adult education is a rough terrain made more so by the decisions and issues in adult education practice that are inherently political Adult educators often grapple with but do not necessarily give voice to the range of political issues and power struggles that frame practice In recognition of the reality that adult educators interact among competing interests and power in their day to day practice this volume aims to make more visible what is known but not discussed the politics of the work of adult education Grounded in both theory and practice this volume identifies key political issues within adult education and suggests strategies for reflection and action The chapters address the examination and negotiation of the political aspects of higher education adult educators in K 12 focussed colleges of education literacy education social welfare reform professional organizations and identity of the field This volume will aid adult educators in reflecting on and sharing the political challenges they confront in their everyday practice of adult education      Adult Education Quarterly ,1996

Proceedings of the Midwest Research-to-Practice Conference ,1994      Embracing and Enhancing the Margins of Adult Education Meg Wise,Michelle Glowacki-Dudka,2004 No rational field of study or practice would choose to occupy organizational or social margins Or would it Adult educators increasingly risk and resist being placed at the margins of academic and other organizations This volume argues that depending on how those margins are defined margins can be a place of creativity and power from which to examine and challenge dominant ideology and practice Chapters explore advances and effective practices being made in the margins of adult education from several perspectives including community based programs interreligious learning human resource development African American underrepresentation in the academy and degree granting adult education programs Other areas explored include an interdisciplinary Web based patient education research program and educational focus on citizenship and public responsibility skills This volume moves beyond the traditional definition of the margin as a power and resource poor position in which individuals are relegated to supporting roles and demonstrates how to embrace expand and blend the margins of adult education by collaborating with others to influence the mainstream This is the 104th issue of the Jossey Bass quarterly series New Directions for Adult and Continuing Education      Embracing and Enhancing the Margins of Adult Education ,2004      Exploring the Reasoning and Assumptions that Inform Futuristic Program Visions of Extension Family Living Educators Patricia S.
