Connectionist Approaches In Economics And Management Sciences:

Connectionist Approaches in Economics and Management Sciences Cédric Lesage, Marie Cottrell, 2013-03-09 Since the beginning of the 1980 s a lot of new approaches of biomimetic inspiration have been defined and developed for imitating the brain behavior for modeling non linear phenomenon for providing new hardware architectures for solving hard problems They are named Neural Networks Multilayer Perceptrons Genetic algorithms Cellular Automates Self Organizing maps Fuzzy Logic etc They can be summarized by the word of Connectionism and consist of an interdisciplinary domain between neuroscience cognitive science and engineering First they were applied in computer sciences engineering biological models pattern recognition motor control learning algorithms etc But rapidly it appeared that these methods could be of great interest in the fields of Economics and Management Sciences The main difficulty was the distance between researchers the difference in the vocabulary used by the ones and the others their basic background The main notions used by these new techniques were not familiar to the Social and Human Sciences researchers What are they Four of them are now very briefly introduced but the reader will find more information in the following chapters

Bio-Mimetic Approaches in Management Science Jacques-Marie Aurifeille, Christopher Deissenberg, 2013-03-09 Management Science is often confronted with optimization problems characterised by weak underlying theoretical models and complex constraints Among them one finds data analysis pattern recognition classification multidimensional analysis discriminant analysis as well as modelling forecasting confirmatory analysis expert system design In recent years biomimetic approaches have received growing attention from Marketing Finance and Human Resource researchers and executives as effective tools for practically handling such problems Biomimetic approaches include a variety of heuristic methods such as neural networks genetic algorithms immunitary nets cellular automata that simulate nature s way of solving complex problems and thus can be considered as numerical transpositions of true life problem solving Bio Mimetic Approaches in Management Science presents a selection of recent papers on biomimetic approaches and their application to Management Science Most of these papers were presented at the last ACSEG CAEMS International Congresses Approches Connexionnistes en Sciences Economiques et de Gestion Connectionnist Approaches in Economics and Management Science All papers combine the discussion of conceptual issues with illustrative empirical applications and contain detailed information on the way heuristics are practically implemented The advantages and limits of the biomimetic approaches are discussed in several of the papers either by comparing these approaches with more classical methods logit models clustering or by investigating specific issues like overfitting and robustness Synthesizing overviews are provided as well as new tools for coping with some of the limitations of biomimetic methods
