

Conrad James And Other Relations

Walter Göbel, Hans Ulrich
Seeber, Martin Windisch

Conrad James And Other Relations:

Conrad, James and Other Relations Keith Carabine, Owen Knowles, Paul B. Armstrong, 1998 Observers from the West the book contends have incorrectly projected rigid ethnocentric notions of love and marriage onto cultures around the world Contributors look beyond each society's official institutions to explore expressions of love They find for instance that arranged marriages and polygamy do not necessarily indicate a lack of romantic passion but rather that people in such cultures may expect to look elsewhere for love Contributors also look at the other side of the equation rejection and grief

Inter-relations, Conrad, James, Ford and Others Keith Carabine, Max Saunders, 2003 The book addresses a broad spectrum of themes and aspects of the literary outputs of Conrad James and Ford and their attendant methodological approaches

Joseph Conrad and H. G. Wells L. Dryden, 2015-05-24 This book traces the literary friendship between Joseph Conrad and H G Wells from their early correspondence through to the differences that caused their estrangement including their respective responses to the First World War It thus gives an overview of the literary scene in the late Victorian and early Edwardian period

Tracing the Aesthetic Principle in Conrad's Novels Y. Levin, 2008-10-13 Tracing the Aesthetic Principle in Conrad's Novels sets out to revolutionize our reading of Joseph Conrad's works and challenge the critical heritage that accompanies them Levin identifies the emergence of an aesthetic principle in Conrad's novels and theorizes that principle through the concept of the otherwise present which Levin defines as that which provokes desire and perpetuates it by barring its appeasement This book offers a detailed analysis of Lord Jim Nostromo Under Western Eyes The Arrow of Gold and Suspense alongside a poststructuralist inspired explication of Conrad's literary vision and its defining principle This study is an important source for both the newcomers and the initiated to Conrad's oeuvre

Under Conrad's Eyes Michael John DiSanto, 2009 An innovative account of Joseph Conrad's engagement with nineteenth century thought

Conrad's Reading Helen Chambers, 2018-04-18 This book aligns concepts and methods from book history with new literary research on a globally studied writer An innovative three part approach combining close reading the evidence of reading scrutiny of international book distribution circuits and of Conrad's many fictional representations of reading illuminates his childhood maritime and later shore based reading After an overview of the empirical evidence of Conrad's reading his sparsely documented twenty years reading at sea and in port is reconstructed An examination the reading practices of his famous narrator Marlow then serves to link Conrad's own maritime and shore based reading Conrad's subsequent networked reading shared with his closest male friends and with literate multilingual women is examined within the context of Edwardian reading practices His fictional representations of reading and material texts are highlighted throughout including genre trends periodical reading reading spaces and their lighting and the use of reading as therapy The book should appeal both to Conrad scholars and to historians of reading

Colonial Odysseys David Adams, 2018-08-06 Works such as Joseph Conrad's Heart of Darkness and Lord Jim Virginia Woolf's The Voyage Out E M Forster's A Passage to

India and Evelyn Waugh's A Handful of Dust explore the relationship between Britain and its colonies when the British Empire was at its height. David Adams observes that because of their structure and specific literary allusions they also demand to be read in relation to the epic tradition. The elegantly written and powerfully argued Colonial Odysseys focuses on narratives published in English between 1890 and 1940 in which protagonists journey from the familiar world of Europe to alien colonial worlds. The underlying concerns of these narratives Adams discovers are often less political or literary than metaphysical: in each of these fictions a major character dies as a result of the journey inviting reflection on the negation of existence. Repeatedly imaginative encounters with distant uncanny colonies produce familiar insular presentations of life as an odyssey with death as the home port. Expanding postcolonial and Marxist theories by drawing on the philosophy of Hans Blumenberg, Adams finds in this preoccupation with mortality a symptom of the failure of secular culture to give meaning to death. This concern in his view shapes the ways modernist narratives reinforce or critique imperial culture: the authors project onto British imperial experience their anxieties about the individual's relation to the absolute.

English Novel Explication Peter L. Abernethy, 1976

Joseph Conrad's Heart of Darkness Harold Bloom, 2008 Joseph Conrad's Heart of Darkness is not simply a critique of colonialism in the Congo; it is an examination of the human tendency toward self-endangering corruptibility. In this updated collection of critical essays, master literary scholar Harold Bloom suggests that this resonant work has taken on the power of myth. Book jacket

Aspects of Conrad's Literary Language Michael A. Lucas, 2000 Why did Joseph Conrad avoid using English except when it came to the arduous task of writing fiction? And how do we account for his extensive borrowing from French writers? This psycholinguistic examination delves into the creative mind of Conrad in an attempt to decipher his learning and use of three languages: Polish, French, and English. Following a trail of syntactical eccentricities and considerable stylistic variations, Lucas shows how these features interact to produce Conrad's idiosyncratic style.

Conrad in Germany Walter Göbel, Hans Ulrich Seeber, Martin Windisch, 2007 A comprehensive collection of 20th-century research on Joseph Conrad, this volume outlines the shift from a humanist and anthropological interest in Conrad as a metaphysical author to the appreciation of Conrad as a nihilist and skeptic of the modernist epoch.

Conrad's Century Laura L. Davis, 1998 Divided into two volumes, The Teachings of Modern Christianity on Law, Politics, and Human Nature offers a landmark collection of writings from twenty Christian thinkers of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries and analyses of their work by leading contemporary religious scholars. With selections from the works of Jacques Maritain, Gustavo Gutiérrez, Dorothy Day, Pope John Paul II, Susan B. Anthony, Karl Barth, Dietrich Bonhoeffer, Reinhold Niebuhr, Martin Luther King Jr., Nikolai Berdyaev, Vladimir Lossky, and others, Volume 2 illustrates the different venues, vectors, and sometimes conflicting visions of what a Christian understanding of law, politics, and society entails. The collection includes works by popes, pastors, nuns, activists, and theologians writing from within the Catholic, Protestant, and Orthodox Christian traditions. Addressing racism, totalitarianism, sexism, and other issues, many of the figures in this volume were the victims of church censure exile imprisonment assassination and death in Nazi concentration camps These writings amplify the long and diverse tradition of modern Christian social thought and its continuing relevance to contemporary pluralistic societies The volume speaks to questions regarding the nature and purpose of law and authority the limits of rule and obedience the care and nurture of the needy and innocent the rights and wrongs of war and violence and the separation of church and state The historical focus and ecumenical breadth of this collection fills an important scholarly gap and revives the role of Christian social thought in legal and political theory The first volume of The Teachings of Modern Christianity on Law Politics and Human Nature includes essays by leading contemporary religious scholars exploring the ideas influences and intellectual and cultural contexts of the figures from this volume The Polish Review ,2002 Imagined Worlds: Essays on Some English Novels and Novelists in Honour of John Butt Maynard Mack,Ian Gregor,1968 English Literature in Transition, 1880-1920 ,1983 Kwartalnik neofilologiczny ,2005 Journal of the House of Representatives of the State of Ohio Ohio.
