Ethics and Human Rights in Anglophone African Women's Literature Chielozone Eze, 2016-12-14 This book proposes feminist empathy as a model of interpretation in the works of contemporary Anglophone African women writers The African woman s body is often portrayed as having been disabled by the patriarchal and sexist structures of society Returning to their bodies as a point of reference rather than the postcolonial ideology of empire contemporary African women writers demand fairness and equality By showing how this literature deploys imaginative shifts in perspective with women experiencing unfairness injustice or oppression because of their gender Chielozone Eze argues that by considering feminist empathy discussions open up about how this literature directly addresses the systems that put them in disadvantaged positions This book therefore engages a new ethical and human rights awareness in African literary and cultural discourses highlighting the openness to reality that is compatible with African multi ethnic multi racial and increasingly cosmopolitan communities Looking for

Hunt, 2007-12-10 A mysterious melancholic brooding Hamlet has gripped and fascinated four hundred years of readers trying to find and know him as he searches for and avenges his father's name Setting itself apart from the usual discussions about Hamlet Hunt here demonstrates that Hamlet is much more than we take him to be Much more than the sum of his parts more than just tragic sexy youth and more than just vain cruelty Hamlet is a reflection of our own aspirations and neuroses Looking for Hamlet investigates our many searches for Hamlet from their origins in Danish mythology through the complex problems of early printed texts through the centuries of shifting interpretations of the young prince to our own time when Hamlet is more compelling and perplexing than ever before Hunt presents Hamlet as a sort of missing person the idealized being inside oneself This search for the missing Hamlet Hunt argues reveals a present absence readers pursue as a means of finding and identifying ourselves GYNOCENTRIC CONTOURS OF THE MALE
