Feminine, Feministic, Feminists, and Feminisms Bushra Naz, Sadia Irshad, Farzana Masroor, Maria Farooq Maan, Stacy Blythe , Abida Sharif, 2025-08-20 This Research Topic aims at bringing together writings across various disciplines to deliberate on how women as a philosophical aesthetic and political category are represented negotiated and transformed in the world of today The representation of women as a philosophical aesthetic and political category has been shaped by cultural and societal norms as well as by historical and political factors While progress has been made in recent years towards greater equality and representation for women there is still much work to be done to fully recognize and celebrate the diversity and complexity of women s experiences and identities There have been continued debates around the notion of feminism becoming obsolete because perceptions exist that feminism has achieved all of its goals However while certain fights have been partially won such as the right to vote and equal access to education women continue to be adversely impacted by all sorts of violence and discrimination in all facets of life Both the United Nations UN and World Health Organization WHO have published various reports on injustice to women and the four key findings suggest 1 approximately 1 in 3 women worldwide according to WHO has experienced physical or psychological violence at some point in their lives UN reports that both women and girls face gender based violence in the form of domestic violence human trafficking and sexual harassment 2 Women face economic injustice as the UN reports that women are often less paid than men for the same work and are more likely to work in low paying jobs in poor working conditions 3 According to a report by the UN women worldwide have less than 25% of parliamentary seats and only 21 countries have women as heads of state 4 WHO reports that women face serious and significant health disparities especially in low income countries including maternal mortality cervical cancer and mental health      Critical Survey of Short Fiction: Lee K. Abbott - Morley Callaghan
