Contemporary Visual Expressions:

Contemporary Visual Expressions David C. Driskell, 1987 This volume brings together essays on four black artists Sam Gilliam Martha Jackson Jarvis Keith Morrison and William T Williams whose work reflects the African American experience today CONTEMPORARY VISUAL EXPRESSIONS, 1987 Contemporary Visual Expressions, 1987 Contemporary Visual Expressions Anacostia Neighborhood Museum, 1987 China—Art—Modernity David Clarke, 2019-01-22 China Art Modernity provides a critical introduction to modern and contemporary Chinese art as a whole It illuminates what is distinctive and significant about the rich range of art created during the tumultuous period of Chinese history from the end of Imperial rule to the present day The story of Chinese art in the twentieth and twenty first centuries is shown to be deeply intertwined with that of the country's broader socio political development with art serving both as a tool for the creation of a new national culture and as a means for critiquing the forms that culture has taken The book's approach is inclusive In addition to treating art within the Chinese Mainland itself during the Republican and Communist eras for instance it also looks at the art of colonial Hong Kong Taiwan and the Chinese diaspora Similarly it gives equal prominence to artists employing tools and idioms of indigenous Chinese origin and those who engage with international styles and contemporary media In this way it writes China into the global story of modern art as a whole at a moment in intellectual history when Western centred stories of modern and contemporary culture are finally being recognized as parochial and inadequate Assuming no previous background knowledge of Chinese history and culture this concise yet comprehensive and richly illustrated book will appeal to those who already have an established interest in modern Chinese art and those for whom this is a novel topic It will be of particular value to students of Chinese art or modern art in general but it is also for those in the wider reading public with a curiosity about modern China At a time when that country has become a major actor on the world stage in all sorts of ways accessible sources of information concerning its modern visual culture are nevertheless surprisingly scarce As a consequence a fully nuanced picture of China's place in the modern world remains elusive China Art Modernity is a timely remedy for that situation Here is a book that offers a comprehensive account of the dizzying transformations of Chinese art and society in the twentieth and twenty first centuries Breaking free of conventional dichotomies between traditional and modern Chinese and Western that have hobbled earlier studies Clarke's highly original book is exactly what I would assign my own students Anyone eager to understand developments in China within the global history of modern art should read this book Robert E Harrist Jr Columbia University Clarke's book presents a critically astute mapping of the arts of modern and contemporary China It highlights the significance of urban and industrial contexts migration diasporas and the margins of the mainland while imaginatively seeking to inscribe its subject into the broader story of modern art A timely and reliable intervention and indispensable for the student and non specialist reader Shane McCausland SOAS University of London David C. Driskell Julie L. McGee, 2006 In this inquiry into Driskell's life and work art historian McGee analyzes Driskell's philosophical struggles as he sought to both express his feelings about racial strife in America and stay true to his art

Rethinking the Forms of Visual Expression Robert Sowers, 1990 Robert Sowers begins this book by questioning our conception of the visual arts painting sculpture and architecture as autonomous archetypal entities that can be defined independent of one another in terms of their materials and techniques He cuts through the limits of categorization we have come to accept to lay the groundwork for a coherent theory of the relation between the visual arts He proposes that we treat the pictorial the sculptural and the architectural not as palpable physical things but as activities the basic forms of visual expression employed to create such distinct artifacts as paintings statues and buildings By defining the expressive function of each art Sowers helps us to understand what we mean when we speak of the sculptural qualities of architecture or the pictorial qualities of sculpture The world of visual art then is a structured whole a world in which the arts can meet merge with and mutually reinforce or swear at one another often in unexpected yet compelling ways
