The Art of Cooking Maestro Martino of Como, 2005-01-03 Maestro Martino of Como has been called the first celebrity chef and his extraordinary treatise on Renaissance cookery The Art of Cooking is the first known culinary guide to specify ingredients cooking times and techniques utensils and amounts This vibrant document is also essential to understanding the forms of conviviality developed in Central Italy during the Renaissance as well as their sociopolitical implications In addition to the original text this first complete English translation of the work includes a historical essay by Luigi Ballerini and fifty modernized recipes by acclaimed Italian chef Stefania Barzini The Art of Cooking unlike the culinary manuals of the time is a true gastronomic lexicon surprisingly like a modern cookbook in identifying the quantity and kinds of ingredients in each dish the proper procedure for cooking them and the time required as well as including many of the secrets of a culinary expert In his lively introduction Luigi Ballerini places Maestro Martino in the complicated context of his time and place and guides the reader through the complexities of Italian and papal politics Stefania Barzini's modernized recipes that follow the text bring the tastes of the original dishes into line with modern tastes Her knowledgeable explanations of how she has adapted the recipes to the contemporary palate are models of their kind and will inspire readers to recreate these classic dishes in their own kitchens Jeremy Parzen's translation is the first to gather the entire corpus of Martino's legacy Eve Eve Aronoff, 2006 The 272 page hard cover book is filled with gorgeous photography capturing her restaurants' ambiance as well as her precise attention to detail with her food preparation and presentation The cookbook literally walks you through the experience of dining at Eve beginning with the composed butters and bread that are served to all guests as they are seated progressing through the courses of a meal and finally concluding as each meal does at Eve with her signature sugared mint leaves She has left nothing untouched as she includes all the details of her recipes from the seasonal jams aromatic oils and spice mixtures which are a foundation for her distinct style Simultaneously she suggests ways to simplify recipes and embrace a way of cooking that combines proper technique with an open minded approach to cooking Eve takes you into the life of the restaurant by sharing stories of how she hires people her passion for the slow food movement the pairing of food and wine Her The No Time to Cook! Trubek, 2017 Home cooking is crucial to our lives but it is not necessary to our survival Over the past century it has become an everyday choice even though it is no longer an everyday chore By looking closely at the stories and practices of American home cooks witnessing them in the kitchen and at the table Amy B Trubek reveals our episodic but also engaged relationship to making meals Making Modern Meals explores the state of American cooking across all its varied practices whether cooking is considered a chore a craft or a creative process Trubek challenges current assumptions about who cooks who doesn't cook and what this means for culture cuisine and health Contending that cooking has changed in the past century she locates identifies and discusses the myriad ways Americans cook in the modern age In doing so she argues that changes in making our meals from shopping to cooking to dining have created new cooks new cooking categories and new culinary challenges Provided by publisher Manly Meals and Mom's Home Cooking Jessamyn Neuhaus, 2012-03-15 A study of what American cookbooks from the 1790s to the 1960s can show us about gender roles food and culture of their time From the first edition of The Fannie Farmer Cookbook to the latest works by today's celebrity chefs cookbooks reflect more than just passing culinary fads As historical artifacts they offer a unique perspective on the cultures that produced them In Manly Meals and Mom's Home Cooking Jessamyn Neuhaus offers a perceptive and piquant analysis of the tone and content of American cookbooks published between the 1790s and the 1960s adroitly uncovering the cultural assumptions and anxieties particularly about women and domesticity they contain Neuhaus's in depth survey of these cookbooks questions the supposedly straightforward lessons about food preparation they imparted While she finds that cookbooks aimed to make readers mainly white middle class women into effective modern age homemakers who saw joy not drudgery in their domestic tasks she notes that the phenomenal popularity of Peg Bracken's 1960 cookbook The I Hate to Cook Book attests to the limitations of this kind of indoctrination At the same time she explores the proliferation of bachelor cookbooks aimed at the man in the kitchen and the biases they display about male and female abilities tastes and responsibilities Neuhaus also addresses the impact of World War II rationing on homefront cuisine the introduction of new culinary technologies gourmet sensibilities and ethnic foods into American kitchens and developments in the cookbook industry since the 1960s More than a history of the cookbook Manly Meals and Mom's Home Cooking provides an absorbing and enlightening account of gender and food in modern America An engaging analysis Neuhaus provides a rich and well researched cultural history of American gender roles through her clever use of cookbooks Sarah Eppler Janda History Reviews of New Books With sound scholarship and a focus on prescriptive food literature Manly Meals makes an original and useful contribution to our understanding of how gender roles are institutionalized and perpetuated Warren Belasco senior editor of The Oxford Encyclopedia of American Food and Drink An excellent addition to the history of women's roles in America as well as to the history of cookbooks Choice Traditions Redirecting Contemporary Indonesian Cultural Productions Jan van der Putten, Edwin P. Wieringa, 2017-08-21 This volume is the result of a conference held in October 2015 in connection with the Frankfurt Book Fair discussing developments that are considered important in contemporary Indonesian cultural productions The first part of the book reflects on the traumatic experiences of the Indonesian nation caused by a failed coup on October 1 1965 In more general theoretical terms this topic connects to the field of memory studies which in recent decades has made an academic comeback The focus of the chapters in this section is how certain often distressing events are represented in narratives in a variety of media that are periodically renewed changed rehearsed repeated and performed in order to become or stay part of the collective memory of a certain group of people The second part of the book explores how forces of globalisation have impacted upon the local and linguistically surprisingly rather homogeneous cultural productions of Indonesia The main strands of inquiry in this second section are topics of global trends in religion responses to urban development the impact of popular literary developments and how traditions are revisited in order to come to terms with international cultural developments Contemporary French
