Contested Childhood:

Contested Bodies of Childhood and Youth Kathrin Hörschelmann, Rachel Colls, 2009-10-22 Demonstrating the contested and differentiated nature of childhood embodiment this book responds to media discourses that stigmatize unruly youthful bodies by combining the critical analysis of imagined and disciplined youthful bodies with a focus on young people's lived and performed embodied subjectivities

Contested Childhoods: Growing up in Migrancy Marie Louise Seeberg, Elżbieta M. Goździak, 2016-10-25 This book is open access under a CC BY NC 2.5 license This open access book explores specific migration governance and identity processes currently involving children and ideas of childhood Migrancy as a social space allows majority populations to question the capabilities of migrants and is a space in which an increasing number of children are growing up In this space families nation states civil society as well as children themselves are central actors engaged in contesting the meaning of childhood Childhood is a field of conceptual moral and political contestation where the battles may range from minor tensions and everyday negotiations of symbolic or practical importance involving a limited number of people to open conflicts involving violence and law enforcement The chapters demonstrate the importance of how we understand phenomena involving children when children are trafficked seeking refuge taken into custody active in gangs or in youth organisations and struggling with identity work This book examines countries representing very different engagements and policies regarding migrancy and children As a result readers are presented with a comprehensive volume ideal for both the classroom and for policy makers and practitioners The chapters are written by experts in social anthropology human geography political science sociology and psychology

The Bloomsbury Handbook of Theories in Childhood Studies Sarada Balagopalan, John Wall, Karen Wells, 2023-11-02 The Bloomsbury Handbook of Theories in Childhood Studies brings together an international group of childhood studies scholars who work with a range of critical theories It speaks to both scholars and students by addressing questions such as how childhoods are diversely constructed and how children's experiences can be better understood The volume draws together a diversity of theoretical perspectives from the social sciences and humanities such as critical race studies disability studies posthumanism feminism politics decolonialism queer theory and postcolonialism to generate a much needed conversation about how to move childhood studies forward as a grounded field of research The volume is subdivided into three sections subjectivities relationalities and structures each of which addresses different but interrelated approaches to childhood studies theorization This handbook will be an essential text not just for childhood studies researchers but for all those interested in theorizing what childhood is what work it does and who children are Contested Childhood Susan D. Holloway, 2013-10-08 In Contested Childhood Holloway an educational and developmental psychologist examines the Japanese preschool and identifies the cultural models that guide Japanese child rearing as being contentious and fragmented She looks at the societal religious and economic factors that shape various preschool programs and shows how culture influences child rearing beliefs and practices

Adoption Jagannath Pati, 2007 Adoption Global Perspective and Ethical Issues The compendium of twelve papers addresses the key issues pertaining to child adoption in global perspective Knowing Bodies, Moving Minds Liora Bresler, 2013-11-11 This book aims to define new theoretical practical and methodological directions in educational research centered on the role of the body in teaching and learning Based on our phenomenological experience of the world it draws on perspectives from arts education and aesthetics as well as curriculum theory cultural anthropology and ethnomusicology These are arenas with a rich untapped cache of experience and inquiry that can be applied to the notions of schooling teaching and learning The book provides examples of state of the art empirical research on the body in a variety of educational settings Diverse art forms curricular settings educational levels and cultural traditions are selected to demonstrate the complexity and richness of embodied knowledge as they are manifested through institutional structures disciplines and specific practices Children, Childhoods and Global Politics J. Marshall Beier, Helen Berents, 2025-05-20 Though children have never been absent from international studies discourse they are too often reduced to a few simplistic and unidimensional framings This book seeks to recover children's agency and to recognize the complex variety of childhoods and the global issues that affect them Written by an international list of contributors from Europe Africa North America and Australasia chapters present highly nuanced accounts of children and childhoods across global political time and space split into three broad sections imagined childhoods governed childhoods and lived childhoods Through its analysis the book demonstrates how international relations is somewhat paradoxically quite deeply invested in a particular rendering of childhood as primarily a time of innocence vulnerability and incapacity Environment and Planning, 2005 Governing Childhood Anne McGillivray, 1997 This collection of studies following a preface by the editor argues that in the modern West over the last twenty years the way in which childhood is understood has taken a distinct shape The authors contest that governing the self may once have been a matter between man and God but it is now and has been for the last 2 centuries or more a matter for the state as well Governing childhood was chosen as a theme for its connotations of social construction and intimate management both within and outside State regulation a concept which embraces the diverse forms and nuances of the conduct of childhood The articles are concerned with how we envision and regulate childhood stating that it tell us as much about ourselves as a people or state as it does about the lives of our children Governing Childhood is a concept which invites the centring of childhood in social and legal studies Kidnapped Souls Tara Zahra, 2011-05-02 Throughout the nineteenth and into the early decades of the twentieth century it was common for rural and working class parents in the Czech German borderlands to ensure that their children were bilingual by sending them to live with families who spoke the other language As nationalism became a more potent force in Central Europe however such practices troubled pro German and pro Czech activists who feared that the children born to their nation could literally be lost or kidnapped from the national community through such experiences and more generally by parents who were either flexible about national belonging or altogether indifferent to it Highlighting this indifference to nationalism and concerns about such apathy among nationalists Kidnapped Souls offers a surprising new perspective on Central European politics and society in the first half of the twentieth century Drawing on Austrian Czech and German archives Tara Zahra shows how nationalists in the Bohemian Lands worked to forge political cultures in which children belonged more rightfully to the national collective than to their parents Through their educational and social activism to fix the boundaries of nation and family Zahra finds Czech and German nationalists reveal the set of beliefs they shared about children family democracy minority rights and the relationship between the individual and the collective Zahra shows that by 1939 a vigorous tradition of Czech German nationalist competition over children had created cultures that would shape the policies of the Nazi occupation and the Czech response to it The book s concluding chapter weighs the prehistory and consequences of the postwar expulsion of German families from the Bohemian Lands Kidnapped Souls is a significant contribution to our understanding of the genealogy of modern nationalism in Central Europe and a groundbreaking exploration of the ways in which children have been the objects of political contestation when national communities have sought to shape or to reshape their futures Small Worlds Elliott West, Paula Petrik, 1992 Thirteen essays treat children from the pre Civil War generation to 1950 as active influential participants in society The essays are organized into four topics cultural and regional variation toys and play family life and the ways evolving memories of childhood shape how adults think of themselves Diversity in Early Childhood , 2002 Child Development and Education Teresa M. McDevitt, Jeanne Ellis Ormrod, 2010 Topically organised this text helps students understand development in action It uses case studies practice features basic developmental issues tables trends tables and observation guidelines tables Diversities in Early Childhood Education Celia Genishi, A. Lin Goodwin, 2008 This edited work is a valuable resource for those studying and working with young children Chapters emphasise the relationship between theory research and practice and provide illustrations of equitable and inclusive practices that move us toward social justice in the critical field of early childhood education Human Technogenesis: Cultural Pathways Through the Information Age Dinesh Sharma, 2004-10-08 The chapters in this volume demonstrate that the recent wave of innovation and adaptation to information technologies giving rise to a new form of human technogenesis is fundamentally transforming our everyday interactions and potentially reconstructing the nature and process of human development Human technogenesis is the constructive process of individual and sociocultural innovation and adaptation to the everyday interactions with information technologies which significantly affects the developing and the developed mind The technologically driven information economy is reshaping everyday human behavior and sociocultural environments Yet our paradigms for understanding human development within a cultural framework are guided by traditional and dichotomous ideas about the social world for example individualism collectivism egocentric sociocentric modern traditional Western Non Western As the impact of information technologies permeates all aspects of our lives research in human development and psychology must face the digitally connected social environments as its laboratory filled with naturally occurring experiments whether it is the speed at which we now communicate in the home or workplace the far reaching access children have to a wide array of information previously unavailable or the vicarious anonymity with which we are able to participate in each other's lives through the new media tools This volume begins the necessary discussion on how researchers will need to recognize the technology's impact on human development in their work and practice This is the 105th volume of the Jossey Bass quarterly report series New Directions for Child and Adolescent Development Bulletin of the Massachusetts Commission on Mental Diseases. v.7-17, 1923-33 ,1923 Philosophy of Early Childhood Education Sandy Farquhar,Peter Fitzsimons,2008-02-04 This book provides an insightful reflection on contemporary issues theories underpinning early childhood education The essays penned by an international group of educators are both critical transformative offering new insights on the practices policies within early childhood education Japanese Children's Reasoning about Conflict with Parents Hiroyuki Yamada,2004 A Social Study of the Russian German Hattie Plum Williams,1916 Arterial Anomalies Pertaining to the Aortic Arches and the Branches Arising from Them Charles William McCorkle Poynter,Hattie Plum Williams,Richard Hans Douai Boerker,1916
