Contested Representations Revisiting Into The Heart Of Africa:

Contested Representations Shelley Ruth Butler, 1999 The controversy surrounding the significant Into the Heart of Africa exhibit at the Royal Ontario Museum in Canada is explored in this compelling analytical text The exhibit has become an international controversial touchstone for issues surrounding the politics of visual representation such as the challenges to curatorial ethnographic authority in multicultural post colonial contexts Asking why the museum s exhibit failed so many people the author examines such issues as institutional politics the broad political intellectual climate surrounding museums the legacies of colonialism traditions of representation of Africa the politics of irony By drawing upon anthropological cultural criticism the book offers a unique account of the ways in which an ambiguous exhibit about colonialism became the site of an expansive explosive discussion of culture which ultimately included the media academe community coalitions creative projects of video poetry The author provides an experimental multi vocal case study of power relationships within the Royal Ontario Museum as well as between the museum its interlocutors The text is a potent analysis of the ways in which reflexive ethnography can energize museum cultural studies is also an alternative souvenir of Into the Heart of Africa

Contested Representations Shelley Butler, 2007-01-09 A gold mine for teaching and the rarest of ethnographic studies Butler s study carries us into the heart of one of the most divisive cultural firestorms to ever hit museums Jeffrey Feldman New York University

The Anthropologist as Curator Roger Sansi, 2020-05-27 Why do contemporary art curators define their work as ethnography How can curation illuminate the practice of contemporary anthropology Does anthropology risk disappearing as a specific discipline within the general model of the curatorial The Anthropologist as Curator collects together the research of international scholars working at the intersection of anthropology and contemporary art in order to explore these questions The essays in the book challenge what it means to do ethnographic work as well as the very definition of the discipline of anthropology in confrontation with the model of the curatorial The contributors examine these ideas from a variety of angles and the book includes perspectives from anthropologists who have set up their own exhibitions those who have conducted fieldwork on the arts including participatory practices digital images and sound and contributors who are currently working in a curatorial capacity at a museum With case studies from the USA Canada Germany Brazil Mexico India and Japan the book represents an international perspective and is relevant to students and scholars of anthropology contemporary art museum studies curatorial studies and heritage studies

The International Handbooks of Museum Studies, 4 Volume Set Sharon Macdonald, Helen Rees Leahy, 2015-07-20 The International Handbooks of Museum Studies is a multi volume reference work that represents a state of the art survey of the burgeoning field of museum studies Featuring original essays by leading international museum experts and emerging scholars readings cover all aspects of museum theory practice debates and the impact of technologies The four volumes in the series divided thematically offer in depth treatment of all major issues relating to museum theory historical and contemporary museum practice mediations in art design and architecture and the transformations and challenges confronting the museum In addition to invaluable surveys of current scholarship the entries include a rich and diverse panoply of examples and original case studies to illuminate the various perspectives Unprecedented for its in depth topic coverage and breadth of scholarship the multi volume International Handbooks of Museum Studies is an indispensable resource for the study of the development roles and significance of museums in contemporary society Museum Theory Andrea Witcomb, Kylie Message, 2020-11-19 MUSEUM THEORY EDITED BY ANDREA WITCOMB AND KYLIE MESSAGE Museum Theory offers critical perspectives drawn from a broad range of disciplinary and intellectual traditions This volume describes and challenges previous ways of understanding museums and their relationship to society Essays written by scholars from museology and other disciplines address theoretical reflexivity in the museum exploring the contextual theoretical and pragmatic ways museums work are understood and are experienced Organized around three themes Thinking about Museums Disciplines and Politics and Theory from Practice Practicing Theory the text includes discussion and analysis of different kinds of museums from various primarily contemporary national and local contexts Essays consider subjects including the nature of museums as institutions and their role in the public sphere cutting edge museum practice and their connections with current global concerns and the links between museum studies and disciplines such as cultural studies anthropology and history New Contexts of Canadian Criticism Ajay Heble, Donna Palmateer Pennee, J.R. Struthers, 1997-04-18 Times change lives change and the terms we need to describe our literature or society or condition what Raymond Williams calls keywords change with them Perhaps the most significant development in the quarter century since Eli Mandel edited his anthology Contexts of Canadian Criticism has been the growing recognition that not only do different people need different terms but the same terms have different meanings for different people and in different contexts Nation history culture art identity the positions we take discussing these and other issues can lead to conflict but also hold the promise of a new sort of community Speaking of First Nations people and their literature Beth Brant observes that Our connections are like the threads of a weaving While the colour and beauty of each thread is unique and important together they make a communal material of strength and durability New Contexts of Canadian Criticism is designed to be read to work in much the same manner Museum Pieces Ruth B. Phillips, 2011-10-26 The ways in which Aboriginal people and museums work together have changed drastically in recent decades This historic process of decolonization including distinctive attempts to institutionalize multiculturalism has pushed Canadian museums to pioneer new practices that can accommodate both difference and inclusivity On Aboriginal Representation in the Gallery Canadian Ethnology Service, Canadian Museum of Civilization, 2002 This book provides a glimpse of thirteenth century life and death in a southern Ontario Iroquoian community The renovation of a Toronto soccer field in 1997 resulted in the accidental discovery of an Iroquoian ossuary a large pit containing the remains of at least 87 people The pit was excavated and recorded and the remains reburied in accordance with the wishes of the Six Nations

Council of Oshweken Scientific analyses of the bones resulted in a remarkably detailed demographic profile of the Moatfield people along with indicators of their health and diet The book reports these findings and includes a complete database of maps and profiles on an accompanying CD ROM Ronald F Williamson is president of Archaeological Services Inc Toronto Susan Pfeiffer is professor of anthropology at the University of Toronto Canadian Journal of Film Studies ,2003

Access to dissertations and theses is becoming increasingly easier as a result of digitalization projects such as UMI s Current Research which at the present time provides full text access to dissertations published after 1996 However access to retrospective titles continues to prove difficult This bibliography addresses some of the limitations of Dissertation Abstracts especially in uncovering works below the doctoral level and those produced in Canada s French language universities While Canadian research is accessible by title and keyword through the National Library of Canada s checklists covering the period from 1821 onwards there are few existing publications that provide abstracts Existing annotated bibliographies in the field of fine arts in Canada merely cover dissertations written prior to 1981 This book identifies 1765 theses or dissertations dealing with Canadian art or built architecture in Canada excluding studio projects and works on landscape architecture

Chronologically these works cover a time span from 1924 to 1999 The bibliography is divided into 25 sections 13 dealing with art and 12 dealing with architecture Works are listed in the category considered most descriptive of content with cross references to other relevant sections Author institution and detailed subject indexes are provided along with order numbers where available All abstracts are in English although approximately 40 percent of the works included were written in French with a few in other languages A specialized but needed resource reference work for librarians art and architecture historians and students of Canadian art and architecture Ubangi Jan-Lodewijk Grootaers,Raymond Boyd,2007 A fantastic new
