Contested Terrain Richard Edwards, 1979-04-19 USA Monograph on the nature of management control over the working class through capitalist work organization illustrates with historical case studies the failure to establish workers self management and social implications of automatic control monopoly personnel management bureaucracy social conflict etc Argues that supervisory hierarchy is intrinsic to profitability economic doctrine and discusses political aspects of trade union structure and labour market segmentation Bibliography pp 244 to 252 graphs and statistical tables Contested Terrain R. Edwards, 1985 Contested Terrain D. A. Gray, 2017-10 CONTESTED TERRAIN captures the myriad identities inside a veteran shaped by birth geography and later a set of experiences that belie any hand me down wisdom Cave Country sees the green fertile surface give way as the illusion collapses beneath the speaker s feet in Desert Skies a barrage of war images hit faster than the speaker can process them and Returning to the Hill Country shows the altered landscape both physical and mental that awaits his return The final section A Handful of Dust shifts from the individual to the culture of fear that has become a new uncomfortable normal Gray s speakers still believe that beauty exists often in an uneasy coexistence with tension hypervigilance and an ever changing consciousness

Seven Social Movements That Changed America Linda Gordon, 2025-03-04 A brilliantly conceived and provocative work from an award winning historian that examines how seven twentieth century social movements transformed America How do social movements arise wield power and bring about meaningful change Renowned scholar Linda Gordon investigates these and other salient questions in this visionary cautionary timely and utterly necessary book Nicole Eustace narrating how some of America s most influential twentieth century social movements transformed the nation Beginning with the turn of the century settlement house movement the book compares Chicago s celebrated Hull House begun by privileged women to a much less well known African American project Cleveland s Phillis Wheatley House begun by a former sharecropper Expanding her highly praised book The Second Coming of the KKK the second chapter shows how a northern Klan became a mass movement in the 1920s Contrary to what many Klan opponents thought this KKK was a middle class organization its members primarily urban and well educated In the 1930s the KKK gave birth to dozens of American fascist groups small but extremely violent Profiles of two other 1930s movements follow the Townsend campaign for old age insurance named for its charismatic leader Dr Francis Townsend It created the public pressure that brought us Social Security which was considered radical at the time as was the movement to bring about federal unemployment aid for millions Proceeding to the 1955 1956 Montgomery bus boycott which jump started the career of Martin Luther King Jr the narrative shows how the city s entire Black population refused to ride segregated buses initiated by Black women their years long hard fought victory inspired the civil rights movement Gordon then examines the 1970s farmworkers struggle led by Cesar Chavez and made possible by the work of tens of thousands of the primarily Mexican American farmworkers Together they built the United Farm Workers Union winning better wages and working conditions for some of the country s poorest workers The book concludes with the dramatic stories of two Boston socialist feminist groups Bread and Roses and the Combahee River Collective which influenced the whole women s liberation movement Throughout the work Gordon concentrates not on ideologies but on how millions of grassroots activists strategized and changed the United States Separately and together these seven narratives bring to life the creativity and hard work of social movements and in doing so reveal how they have been central to American history in stories that reverberate with today s political activism

Crown Jewel Wilderness Lauren Danner,2021-06-18 Remote rugged and spectacularly majestic with stunning alpine meadows and jagged peaks that soar beyond ten thousand feet North Cascades National Park is one of the Pacific Northwest s crown jewels Now in the first full length account Lauren Danner chronicles its creation just in time for the park s fiftieth anniversary in 2018 The North Cascades range benefited from geographic isolation that shielded its mountains from extensive resource extraction and development Efforts to establish a park began as early as 1892 but gained traction after World War II as economic affluence sparked national interest in wilderness preservation and growing concerns about the impact of harvesting timber to meet escalating postwar housing demands As the environmental movement matured a 1950s Glacier Peak study mobilized conservationists to seek establishment of a national park that prioritized wilderness Concerned about the National Park Service s policy favoring development for tourism and the United States Forest Service s policy promoting logging in the national forests conservationists leveraged a changing political environment and the evolving environmental values of the natural resource agencies to achieve the goal of permanent wilderness protection Their grassroots activism became increasingly sophisticated eventually leading to the compromise that resulted in the 1968 creation of Washington s magnificent third national park

On Contested Terrain Dan Leers,Lisa Sutcliffe,2020 An My L On Contested Terrain Copublished by Aperture and Carnegie Museum of Art Contested Terrain Sharyn Rohlfson Udall,1996 The Southwest has long beckoned the artist But too often art made by Euro Americans drawn to this region has either basked in the sunny celebration of the picturesque the exotic and the sentimental or appropriated the myths and art of Native Americans In this collection of essays Sharyn R Udall explores the work of some of the painters who have found stimulus in the ideas people and myths of the Southwest among them Georgia O Keeffe Marsden Hartley Page Allen and Woody Gwyn They saw the Southwest in new ways drawing inspiration from the very light and topography of the region Udall s goal is to open and enlarge the discussion by rejecting the neat circumscribed way of seeing common to traditional art history Thus she declares one is able to encourage a fresh look at these painters and their work and at the larger relationships of nature and culture in the Southwest Contested terrain Richard C. Mega-Events in Asia Koji Kobayashi,John Horne,Younghan Cho,Jung Woo Lee,2023-06-20 This book is the first comprehensive collection focusing on the hosting of sports mega events within Asia and their impact on the politics economics and culture that shape and are shaped by the local idiosyncrasies of host cities and countries across this most culturally diverse continent From the Olympic Games and single sport World Cups to the Asian Games and their sub regional variations an increasing number of Asian countries have rapidly developed their capacity to host and mobilize large scale sports events as a cornerstone of their economic growth national identity formation and international prestige This book sets out to fill a gap in the literature and will be of particular relevance to those who are interested in globalization sports studies political economy cultural studies event management and policy sociology media studies and Asian studies Policy Research in Educational Settings Jenny Ozga,1999-11-16 This book argues for independent critical research on education policy in the context of attacks on the quality and usefulness of educational research in general It takes issue with the argument promoted by government departments and agencies that education policy research should be limited to work that assists policy makers Against this position the book advocates independent critical research that scrutinizes policy in relation to its consequences for equality and social justice It argues that practitioners and academic researchers should form a research community that develops its own knowledge base from which so called evidence based policymaking in education may be assessed and challenged The book offers guidance on the theoretical and methodological resources available to practitioners and others with an interest in doing research on policy and discusses some of the main issues and problems in doing policy research on education It offers examples of research on policy at different system levels pursuing themes such as globalization changing governance of education selection choice and exclusion managerialism and the feminisation of educational management It argues for attention to the history of policy in education as a resource for understanding the present and concludes with recommendations for future research in areas where contestation of official agendas is needed

Contested Terrain Horacio Rafael Rodriguez,2016 As a product of multiple cultures and identities my art is used as a vehicle to explore the creation of my personal narrative within the hybrid cultures of the borderlands I am interested in generative questions such as What role does spoken and visual language play in the transmission of culture How did my loss of language at a young age disconnect me from my culture What symbols synonymous with my culture could be transformed and infused with new meaning How can I overcome and transform racist language and ideologies that I have confronted in my life What do I have to say about my past and do I want to form those memories in my work My thesis exhibition is about the many borders I have crossed in my life I carry many of these borders with me in my memories and produce work about these physical and psychological borders through a variety of media Clay photo installation and sculpture come together to create a body of work that allows me to navigate the borderlands that I occupy The use of personal and pop imagery allows me to construct my story facilitate the creation of my identity and push my audience to explore their identity
