Continuum Studies In Medieval History Introducing Planning:

Richard of St. Victor's Theory of Imagination Ritva Palmén, 2014-08-21 Richard of St Victor d 1173 developed original ideas about the faculty of imagination in a twelfth century Parisian context Related to the historical study of philosophical psychology Richard of St Victor s Theory of Imagination acknowledges that the faculty of imagination being a necessary precondition for human reasoning and a link between soul and body plays an important role in Richard s understanding of the human soul Richard also deals with the interpretation of biblical language metaphors rhetoric and the possibility of creative imagination Considering all these aspects of the imagination in Richard s texts improves our understanding of his theological epistemology and sheds new light on the theory of the imagination in the history of medieval philosophy in general

Speaking in God's Name Khaled Abou El Fadl, 2014-10-01 Drawing on both religious and secular sources this challenging book argues that divinely ordained law is frequently misinterpreted by Muslim authorities at the expense of certain groups including women Khaled Abou El Fadl cites a series of injustices in Islamic society and ultimately proposes a return to the original ethics at the heart of the Muslim legal system

Exploring Human Geography Stephen Daniels, Roger Lee, 2014-05-01 A lively and stimulating resource for all first year students of human geography this introductory Reader comprises key published writings from the main fields of human geography Because the subject is both broad and necessarily only loosely defined a principal aim of this book is to present a view of the subject which is theoretically informed and yet recognises that any view is partial contingent and subject to change The extracts selected are accessible and raise issues of method and theory as well as fact The editors have chosen articles that not only represent main currents in the present flow of academic geography but which are also responsive to developments outside of the discipline Their selection contains a mixture of established and recent writings and each section features a contextualizing introduction and detailed suggestions for further reading

Apostates, Hybrids, or True Jews? Raymond Lillevik, 2014-07-03 This book explores the relationship between Christian faith and Jewish identity from the perspective of three Jewish believers in Jesus living in eastern and central Europe before World War 1 Rudolf Hermann Chaim Gurland Christian Theophilus Lucky Chaim Jedidjah Pollak and Isaac Ignatz Lichtenstein They were all rabbis or had rabbinic education and were in different ways combining their faith in Jesus as Messiah with a Jewish identity The book offers a biographical study of the three men and an analysis of their understandings of identity This analysis considers five categories for identification the relation of Gurland Lucky and Lichtenstein to Jewish tradition to the Jewish people to Christian tradition to the Christian community and to the network of Jewish believers in Jesus Lillevik argues that Gurland Lucky and Lichtenstein in very different ways transcended essentialist as well as constructionist ideas of Jewish and Christian identity
