Artificial Intelligence and Taxation Law
 Enrico Gallo, 2025-07-25

This book identifies how artificial intelligence (AI) systems can be used as part of decision processes within international tax and transfer pricing disputes. The issue of double taxation and its impact on economic development continues to escalate as globalization causes states to interact on a growing scale. In recent years, AI applications have shown potential to solve this issue, particularly in reference to the length of time taken to resolve cases of double taxation in the field of transfer pricing. These cases can typically take at least two or more years to resolve, resulting in high cost to taxpayers and tax administrations. The book identifies the current legal frameworks available to prevent and solve tax and more specific transfer pricing disputes and details their advantages and disadvantages. Providing an analysis of what AI can offer to different legal principles, it shows how this can challenge existing rules and the changes this requires within the legal framework. The book provides an overview of the challenges and opportunities that lie at the intersection of AI systems and the domain of international law, providing case studies to demonstrate its practical applications. It asks and answers the fundamental question: Can AI or more specifically machine learning (ML) replace human decisions within the resolution of international tax and transfer pricing disputes? The book will be of interest to researchers in the field of tax law, data protection law, consumer protection law, intellectual property law, and artificial intelligence.
