Destiny Bay:

Destiny Bay Donn Byrne, 1928 Memoirs of childhood in Ireland a sentimental novel of an Irish village that sits at the edge of sparkling Destiny Bay The story concerns the marriage of an Irish nobleman to a gipsy in 1889 and romance among his descendants Destiny Bay was adapted by Tom Geraghty John Meehan and Brinsley MacNamara as the script for Wings of the Morning Harold Schuster 1937 being Britain's first Technicolor feature movie the score was sung by John McCormack Donn Byrne Brian Oswald Donn Byrne was born in New York City Shortly after his birth however his parents took him back to the land of his forefathers There he was educated and came to know the people of whom he wrote so magically At Dublin University his love for the Irish language and for a good fight won him many prizes first as a writer in Gaelic and second as the University's lightweight boxing champion After continuing his studies at the Sorbonne and the University of Leipzig he returned to the United States where in 1911 he married and established a home in Brooklyn Heights He earned his living while trying to write short stories as an editor of dictionaries Soon his tales began to attract attention and he added to his collection of boxing prizes many others won in short story contests When Messer Marco Polo appeared in 1921 his reputation in the literary world was firmly established Thereafter whatever he wrote was hailed enthusiastically by his ever growing public until 1928 when his tragic death in an automobile accident cut short the career of one of America's best loved story tellers

Defining Destiny Gina Lea, 2014-04-16 Growing up in the small town of Destinybay Sara Alex and Diana were as tight as the Three Musketeers bound by a friendship forged in childhood and made complete by their vow to escape their hometown someday to find love adventure and their own true destiny Never once in those young dreams did Sara believe shed end up back here in the middle of her life a divorced mother of her own rebellious teenager with no job no home and no future in sight With Alex stuck in the same sinking boat and Diana ready to weigh in Sara resigns herself to living with her mother But time is not always kind and Sara discovers her hometown has been dying in her absence with many of those historic buildings now abandoned and whispering regrets around every corner Faster than she can rewrite her own life Sara is opening a coffee shop downtown while navigating the stormy waters of rebooting her childhood friendships and fending off her childhood beau Sam who is running a charter fishing business on the bay Just as she and her friends begin to find their safe harbor will secrets and jealousy create waves that threaten to destroy the future they are working so hard to build Sara Alex and Diana will discover the power of childhood promises and regrets amidst the waves of change and loss that life holds Can they recapture the strength of their bond in time to turn those regrets into grace and unlock the knowledge that its never too late to define your destiny and discover where your True North lies Here's who in Horses of the Pacific Coast, 1948 Book Review Digest, 1929 Excerpts from and citations to reviews of more than 8 000 books each year drawn from coverage of 109 publications Book Review Digest provides citations to and excerpts of reviews of current juvenile and adult fiction and nonfiction in the English language Reviews of the following types of books are excluded government publications
