Development And Ethnocide Colonial Practices In The Andaman Islands:

Development and Ethnocide Sita Venkateswar, 2004 This book is an ethnographic account of colonialism in the Andaman Islands Bay of Bengal India It examines the links between colonialism and development under British and Indian administrations and analyses how the different indigenous groups the Andamanese the Onge the Jarawa and the Sentinelese have responded differently and been affected in different ways by colonization and the everyday dynamics of colonial administrative practices It emphasizes particularly the dynamics of power and gender The book also looks at the present situation of the Jarawa who until recently were known as a people that avoided contact with the surrounding society The book concludes with a section on current advocacy initiatives being spearheaded by civil society organizations and scholars aimed at securing the Jarawas right to territory and to choose for themselves which future they want The book includes an appendix containing the 2003 Draft Policy on the Jarawas by Shri K B Saxena member of the Expert Committee on the Jarawas as well as an alternative Jarawa policy framework drafted by a group of independent experts and observers of which the author is a member

New Histories of the Andaman Islands Clare Anderson, Madhumita Mazumdar, Vishvajit Pandya, 2016-02-11 This innovative multidisciplinary exploration of the unique history of the Andaman Islands as a hunter gatherer society colonial penal colony and state engineered space of settlement and development ranges across the theoretical conceptual and thematic concerns of history anthropology and historical geography Covering the entire period of post settlement Andamans history from the first failed British occupation of the Islands in the 1790s up to the year 2012 the authors examine imperial histories of expansion and colonization decolonization anti colonialism and nationalism Japanese occupation independence and partition migration commemoration and contemporary issues of Indigenous welfare New Histories of the Andaman Islands offers a new way of thinking about the history of South Asia and will be thought provoking reading for scholars of settler colonial societies in other contexts as well as those engaged in studies of nationalism and postcolonial state formation ecology visual cultures and the politics of representation

"Craft, Community and the Material Culture of Place and Politics, 19th-20th Century" Janice Helland, 2017-07-05 Craft practice has a rich history and remains vibrant sustaining communities while negotiating cultures within local or international contexts More than two centuries of industrialization have not extinguished handmade goods rather the broader force of industrialization has redefined and continues to define the context of creation deployment and use of craft objects With object study at the core this book brings together a collection of essays that address the past and present of craft production its use and meaning within a range of community settings from the Huron Wendat of colonial Quebec to the Girls Friendly Society of twentieth century England The making of handcrafted objects has and continues to flourish despite the powerful juggernaut of global industrialization whether inspired by a calculated refutation of industrial sameness an essential means to sustain a cultural community under threat or a rejection of the imposed definitions by a dominant culture The broader effects of urbanizing imperial and globalizing projects shape the multiple contexts of interaction and resistance that can define craft ventures through place and time By attending to the political histories of craft objects and their makers over the last few centuries these essays reveal the creative persistence of various hand mediums and the material debates they represented Citizen Refugee Udit Sen,2018-08-30 This innovative study explores the interface between nation building and refugee rehabilitation in post partition India Relying on archival records and oral histories Udit Sen analyses official policy towards Hindu refugees from eastern Pakistan to reveal a pan Indian governmentality of rehabilitation This governmentality emerged in the Andaman Islands where Bengali refugees were recast as pioneering settlers Not all refugees however were willing or able to live up to this top down vision of productive citizenship Their reminiscences reveal divergent negotiations of rehabilitation from below Educated refugees from dominant castes mobilised their social and cultural capital to build urban squatters colonies while poor Dalit refugees had to perform the role of agricultural pioneers to access aid Policies of rehabilitation marginalised single and widowed women by treating them as permanent liabilities These rich case studies dramatically expand our understanding of popular politics and everyday citizenship in post partition India Disaster Planning and Governance in India Sunita Reddy,Anil Kumar Sinha,2023-01-03 With an increasing need for experts to provide solutions to complex disaster scenarios and related management issues across the globe universities and governments are finding it highly relevant to introduce courses on disaster management Disaster management education could help in disaster mitigation and could save several lives as well as assets Written in simple language by disaster professionals most of whom have dedicated their entire careers to disaster management this book will be an important textbook for graduate and postgraduate research students It provides the history of disaster management especially governance issues and scientific and technological development in the areas of disasters including recovery processes which have drastically reduced the loss of lives This book not only unfolds the process of evolution of disaster management and challenges faced by experts in the field but also suggests various ways in which we can build a resilient country Disciplined Natives Satadru Sen,2012 This volume examines three interrelated aspects of the history of British India race the disciplining institution and attempts by the colonized to imagine states of freedom They deal with sites as diverse as the prison the family the classroom the playing field and children s literature The essays confront the ideological social and political ramifications of the fact that even as metropolitan prisons and schools shifted their attention from the body to the confined soul colonial disciplinary institutions ensured that race was firmly attached to the body and its habits They also engage the historiography that has sought to underline the challenges of reconciling Michel Foucault and Edward Said They ask whether the liberating possibilities of the racialized and embodied native self were confined to inversions and rearrangements of given normative hierarchies or if we can occasionally glimpse radical departures and alternative configurations of power Colonial Collecting and Display Claire Wintle,2013-05-01 In the late nineteenth century British travelers to the Andaman and Nicobar Islands compiled wide ranging collections of material culture for scientific instruction and personal satisfaction Colonial Collecting and Display follows the compelling history of a particular set of such objects tracing their physical and conceptual transformation from objects of indigenous use to accessioned objects in a museum collection in the south of England This first study dedicated to the historical collecting and display of the Islands material cultures develops a new analysis of colonial discourse using a material culture led approach to reconceptualize imperial relationships between Andamanese Nicobarese and British communities both in the Bay of Bengal and on British soil It critiques established conceptions of the act of collecting arguing for recognition of how indigenous makers and consumers impacted upon British collection practices and querying the notion of a homogenous British approach to material culture from the Andaman and Nicobar Islands Mini-India Philipp Zehmisch, 2018-02-15 Often called Mini India the Andaman Islands have been a crucial site of encounter between different regimes subjects castes creeds languages and ethnicities Since 1858 subaltern convicts refugees repatriates and labourers from South and Southeast Asia have moved to the islands condemned to or in search of a new life While some migrants have achieved social mobility others have remained disenfranchised and marginalized This ethnographic study of the Andaman settler society analyses various shades of inequality that arise from migrant communities material and representational access to the state The author employs the concept of subalternity to investigate political negotiations of island history collective identity ecological sustainability and resource access Interpreting characteristic views practices and voices of subaltern interlocutors the author untangles their collective agency and consciousness in migration settlement and place making processes Further the book highlights particular subaltern strategies in order to achieve autonomy and peaceful cohabitation through movement cultural and social appropriation and multi layered methods of resistance Journal of the Indian Anthropological Society ,2006 Proceedings of the Workshop on Coastal Area Planning and Management in Asian Tsunami-affected Countries ,2007 Australian Convict Sites ,2008 The Australian Convict Sites is made up of 11 sites in New South Wales Tasmania western australia and Norfolk island This framework is a key part of the co operative management by five governments to protect conserve and present the Australian Convict Sites p 3 Indigenous Archaeology in India Ajay Pratap, 2009 In this book the author presents his findings connected with the archaeology of the Rajmahal Hills Jharkhand State north eastern India and discusses the wider relevance of his surface archaeology approach to the archaeology of the rest of the tribal areas of India He also approaches the issue of a gendered study of rock art and landscape archaeology both of which again fall within the domain of tribal archaeology proper The author also has a keen interest in the theory of history and archaeology and writes about this subject in several of the chapters Further sections engage in theoretical debates regarding the relationship between history and archaeology The study concludes that it may be possible to delineate a separate domain for the archaeology of the tribal areas called subaltern archaeology The present work breaks further new ground in historical and archaeological research in terms of the fieldwork undertaken in the Rajmahal

Hills and elsewhere in India the novel idea being that the tribal population of India does have a long term past an issue thus far relatively rarely investigated
