The Globalizing Cities Reader Xuefei Ren,Roger Keil,2017-10-12 The newly revised Globalizing Cities Reader reflects how the geographies of theory have recently shifted away from the western vantage points from which much of the classic work in this field was developed The expanded volume continues to make available many of the original and foundational works that underpin the research field while expanding coverage to familiarize students with new theoretical and epistemological positions as well as emerging research foci and horizons It contains 38 new chapters including key writings on globalizing cities from leading thinkers such as John Friedmann Michael Peter Smith Saskia Sassen Peter Taylor Manuel Castells Anthony King Jennifer Robinson Ananya Roy and Fulong Wu The new Reader reflects the fact that world and global city studies have evolved in exciting and wide ranging ways and the very notion of a distinct global class of cities has recently been called into question. The sections examine the foundations of the field and processes of urban restructuring and global city formation. A large number of new entries focus on the emerging urban worlds of Asia, Latin America and Africa including Beijing, Bogota, Cairo, Cape Town, Delhi, Istanbul, Medellin, Mumbai, Phnom Penh, Rio de Janeiro, Sao Paulo and Shanghai. The book also presents cases off the conventional map of global cities research such as smaller cities and less known urban regions that are undergoing processes of globalization. The book is a key resource for students and scholars alike who seek an accessible compendium of the intellectual foundations of global urban studies as well as an overview of the emergent patterns of early 21st century urbanization and associated sociopolitical contestation around the world.

Digital Finance and Regulatory Competition Lucien van Romburg, 2024-11-21 International Banking and Finance Law Series 39 Digital Finance and Regulatory Competition Regulating Distributed Ledger Technology Based Financial Products and Services Lucien J van Romburg. Governments like people compete against each other but do so in a bid to achieve their myriad socio-economic and political aims. In the operation of regulatory competition, governments may create rules with the intent of attracting capital and labour to their domains. In the twenty-first century, regulatory competition takes on a new dimension in the face of the rapid advancement of digital finance. The role of financial technology (fintech) as a tool through which governments achieve their aims cannot be overstated. The proliferation of distributed ledger technologies (DLT) marked a watershed moment for technological advancement and presented a ripe opportunity for governments to defend their competing claims for resources. In this context, this book tackles the question of whether the world's leading financial centres (Hong Kong, London and New York) engaged in regulatory competition against each other through their creation of rules to govern DLT-based financial products and services during the period 2008 until 2022. In answering this question, this book provides a cohesive framework for understanding the influence of regulatory competition on rule creation using a narrative lens based on a comparative study of legal, regulatory and policy instruments. The lessons distilled from the analysis provide reasoned observations on the potential implications for the future regulation of financial products and services underlined by novel technologies. The topics covered in this book, which concern the timely intersection of regulatory competition and fintech, include the emergence and impact of DLT, its core features, types, use cases and applications in the financial services industry, origins of regulatory competition, from Charles Tiebout to the regulatory races to the top and bottom, formulation of a definitional matrix which provides a cohesive framework for understanding regulatory competition, regulatory frameworks for DLT-based financial products and services in Hong Kong, London and New York, and potential impact of regulatory competition on the future regulation of financial products and services underlined by novel technologies. This book represents one of the very few studies comprehensively tackling the topic of regulatory competition through the guise of fintech. It will deepen the understanding of lawmakers, policymakers and regulators concerning the influence and significance of regulatory
