Development Of Modern Romanian:

Alexandru D. Xenopol and the Development of Romanian Historiography Paul A. Hiemstra,2016-04-14 Despite the criticism of his peers and the inattention of his successors Alexandru Xenopol provided Romanian nationalistic historiography with a greater measure of respectability especially with the general public By the time of WWI a strong sense of national identity had become entrenched as an intellectually respectable mentality among Romania s literate classes This book examines Xenopol s participation in the creation of this mentality in Romania during decades that were crucial to the development of institutionalized intellectual life and and educted behaviour in that country The Making of Modern Romanian Culture Alex Drace-Francis,2005 This book challenges the notion that Western ideas were essential to Romanian development It is a fascinating story of how a national culture is born This book provides a history of the development of literary culture and the printed word in Romania How do literacy and the development of literary culture promote the development of a national identity The Making of Modern Romanian Culture examines the development of both a literary tradition and institutions aimed at promoting literacy in Romania in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries from Romanians under the control of the Austrian Empire in the eighteenth century to revolt in Romania under Tudor Vladimirescu in 1821 to Carol the first King of Romania crowned in 1881 Alex Drace Francis combines analysis of education systems book production and the periodical press with case studies of key thinkers such as Mihai Eminescu Ion Luca Caragiale and Titu Maiorescu to trace Romania s cultural and literary development He offers a criticism of the idea that the penetration of Western ideas was essential to modernism to place literacy and identity within both a Romanian and a global context Bloomsbury Publishing

Philosophy, Society and the Cunning of History in Eastern Europe Costica Bradatan,2013-09-13 Philosophy Society and the Cunning of History in Eastern Europe charts the intellectual landscape of twentieth century East Central Europe under the unifying theme of precariousness as a mode of historical existence Caught between empires often marked by catastrophic historic events and grand political failures the countries of East Central Europe have for a long time developed a certain intellectual self representation a culture that not only helps them make some sense of such misfortunes but also protects them somehow from a collapse into nihilism An interdisciplinary study of this sophisticated culture of survival and endurance has been long overdue Not only is it charming and worth studying in its own right but with the re integration of the new Europe into the old one and the emergence on the Western European intellectual scene of many authors from the East such a culture will also shape the European mind of the 21st century This volume decodes and explores this culture of precariousness from the complementary angles of philosophy political theory intellectual history and literary studies Expert contributors look at a wide range of topics from philosophical martyrdom to collective suffering to geographical fatalism and explore the works of key authors in the field including Cioran Ko akowski Kert sz Bauman and i ek This book was originally published as a special issue of Angelaki The Journal of the Theoretical Humanities Making of Modern Romanian Culture

Alex Drace-Francis,2005 Habsburg Galicia and the Romanian Kingdom Raluca Goleșteanu-Jacobs,2023-12-01 This comparative attempt intended for postgraduates and scholars of Eastern Central Europe investigates the political economic and cultural landscape of Habsburg Galicia and the Romanian Kingdom in the second half of the 19th century Often in historiography and in the public sphere alike the two cases under study have been separately regarded as contexts that provided atypical answers to modernity and parts of a region that has been regarded as atypical in itself Recently efforts have been made to integrate each of the cases in a post imperial paradigm identifying the complex interactions between their socio political modernisation and historical memory This book continues this trend by investigating for the first time the two cases together as parts of a space of alterity as labs of shifting ideologies and labels The public figures and the institutions depicted in the book are physically located in Central and in Eastern Europe but by sometimes competing experiences they are illustrative for several identities and historical realms local regional and continental Secondly the current work addresses dilemmas related to Nationalism and nation building for the sake of separating those discourses which reflected on civic nationalism from those which directed the public mind to the values of ethnic nationalism Contributions to a Romanian History Symposium David B. Funderburk,Calvin C. Turpin,1976 Making of Modern Romanian Culture Alex Drace-Francis,2013-01-08 How do literacy and the development of literary culture promote the development of a national identity This well researched and readable book explores the rise of Romanian language literary educational and printing institutions in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries bringing out a story that has not been fully explored in English He builds on and engages with current knowledge about print culture modernization national identity and state formation to make an original contribution to ongoing debates in these areas The Making of the Romanian Unitary National State, 1918 Ștefan Pascu,1988 Nasal Vowel Evolution in Romance Rodney Sampson,1999 This book provides a complete comparative nongallocentric account of nasality in all the Romance languages It demonstrates the central role of nasality in the history of sound changes in the languages of southern Europe In doing so it assembles a large amount of important philological and linguistic data previously dispersed and difficult to access and organizes it in a way that allows the author and will allow the reader to analyse it systematically Two introductory chapters discuss general principles of nasality and Romance nasalization Subsequent chapters are then devoted to each language The author considers all the standard varieties and a substantial range of non standard varieties and identifies broad characteristics of vowel nasalization in Romance In the the final chapter he makes a clear bridge between the data rich discussion of individual languages and the isolation of language universals This is will be the standard work in its field for many years It will be of central interest to linguists and philologists of Romance as well as to those concerned more generally to understand the causes patterns and processes of sound change Illustrated History of the Romanian People Dinu C. Arnason,Jóhann Páll Árnason,Natalie Doyle,2010-01-01 The patterns of unity and division that define Europe as a historical region have been discussed in many seminal works but the complex set of questions behind its domains and divisions merits a more sustained debate The disappearance of the cold war the enlargement of the European Union and core issues of historical sociology all require an exploration of the structures and boundaries of historical formations as well as the question of European unity This volume tackles the topic of the divisions that have shaped European history head on as leading scholars in the field negotiate such issues as regional identity geographical boundaries divisional labeling and post cold war European unity
