Development Centre Studies Regional Integration Fdi And Competitiveness In Southern Africa:

Development Centre Studies Regional Integration, FDI and Competitiveness in Southern Africa Goldstein Andrea, 2004-10-15 By analysing investment flows and examining the role of foreign direct investment in key industries this book examines why Southern Africa has not become a magnet for FDI and what it needs to do to attract more investment

Regional Integration, FDI and Competitiveness in Southern Africa Andrea E. Goldstein, 2004 Southern Africa with its vast natural resources and relatively skilled workforce should be a magnet for foreign direct investment FDI This however is not the case Indeed even domestic investment is low though intra regional investment mainly from South Africa and Mauritius is notable This book analyses investment flows within the region and examines the role of FDI in key industries and the role of the Southern Africa Customs Union SACU It concludes that Southern Africa still has to shake off a reputation for instability and high risk and makes some recommendations about how that can be achieved OECD Reviews of Innovation Policy: South Africa 2007 OECD, 2007-09-10 A comprehensive assessment of the innovation system of South Africa focusing on the role of government Globalising the Regional, Regionalising the Global: Volume 35, Review of International Studies Rick Fawn, 2009-04-30 A collection of leading international scholars examine the concept of regions from a range of perspectives and assess leading contemporary examples Monitoring Regional Integration in Southern Africa Yearbook, 2005 Handbook on Small Nations in the Global Economy D. van den Bulcke, Alain Verbeke, Wenlong Yuan, 2009 These studies of the international competitiveness of small open economies demonstrate the critical importance of foreign direct investment as an engine of economic development multinational enterprises are the key drivers of international competitiveness Alan M Rugman University of Reading UK Globalization has made every country small The global economic crisis has made sure that every country has increasingly realised that it is open and vulnerable as well This volume is both timely and relevant Small country studies should become mainstream for scholars in business economics and politics Rob van Tulder RSM Erasmus University the Netherlands This book provides a fresh and clear eyed view of the relationship between multinationals and location advantages of countries It is one of the first attempts to build a constructive bridge between the theory of international business and the outstanding contribution of Michael Porter about the drivers of competitiveness The authors address crucial issues demanding the attention of teachers researchers practitioners and political leaders Philippe Gugler University of Fribourg Switzerland This unique extensive Handbook illustrates that multinational enterprises can contribute substantially to the competitive advantage of small countries It advances the notion that small nations increasingly need to rely on both home grown and foreign multinational enterprises to achieve domestic economic success in industries characterized by international competition The expert contributors explore the roles of firms in a range of small successful open economies driven by such multinational enterprises across the globe They juxtapose country data sets against Professor Michael Porter's paradigm of single diamond components and show that these single diamond components reflect merely a set of initial conditions which can be improved upon through both inward and outward direct investment Concluding that multinational enterprises create resource linkages between the home and host environments in which they operate this Handbook proves to be a fascinating read for academics students and researchers with an interest in business and management economics and international economics Journal of Economic Integration ,2008 Working Paper ,2007 Journal of Economic Literature ,2005 HMSO Agency Catalogue Great Britain. Reducing Capital Cost in Southern Africa Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development. Development Centre,2005 Southern Africa suffers from disproportionately expensive capital and this is denying the region its full growth potential This book presents the ideas and proposals of a group of experts and practitioners from the state and business environments brought together by the OECD Development Centre with public and private sector partners on reducing the cost of capital in the region It thus provides a unique insight into the nature of the problem of the cost of capital in Southern Africa and the effects it has on business activity and infrastructure development In addition the authors set out to define strategies for reducing capital cost outlining measures suitable for government and private actors Unlocking Africa's Potential Neuma Grobbelaar,Hany Besada,2008 Since 1994 South Africa firms have emerged as some of the largest investors in the rest of Africa Present in a wide range of sectors across the continent they have been involved in changing not only Africa s cityscapes and societies but also significantly the conduct of business in the region This volume draws together authors from different parts of the world who are keenly interested in the development of Africa s private sector Based in part on the research that the South African Institute of International Affairs SAIIA has conducted on the experiences of South African companies in 9 countries across the continent the volume takes as its standpoint the view that sustainable development in Africa can only be achieved if the private sector is allowed to flourish Highlighting the importance of public private partnership in achieving this vision it offers recommendations on how to strengthen the private sector in Africa for policy makers interested in the continent s development P 4 of cover The Stationery Office Agency Catalogue Stationery Office (Great Britain),2004 Bank of Namibia ,2006 Global Development Finance ,2003 Regional Integration in Southern Africa ,2006 South Africa's Foreign Direct Investment in Africa Wolfgang H. Thomas,2006 Wolfgang H Thomas provides a concise yet detailed assessment of current trade and investment activities in Africa with a view to highlighting the importance and mutually beneficial engagement of recipient and investing countries between South Africa and developed nations as well as inter African partnerships Thomas also identifies the risks and impediments currently hindering South Africa s FDI flows in order to further realise the new African FDI paradigm Africa Research Bulletin ,2000

Assessing Regional Integration in Africa 2008 African Union,2008 This report finds that although there are some successes African countries are still experiencing enormous difficulties in achieving the macroeconomic convergence criteria set by their RECs such as targets on inflation debt to GDP ratio and deficit to GDP ratio The assessment also indicates that despite some financial developments African financial market activities remain shallow with capital markets characterized by low capitalization and liquidity The report also provides policymakers with recommendations on how to deepen monetary and financial integration on the continent and create an enabling macroeconomic environment for the continent OECD Key Publications Catalogue Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development,2004
