Development And Rights Development In Practice Readers Paperback By Eade:

Grassroots Development ,1999 Development and Rights Oxfam,1998 Human rights Grahame Russell Global Food-Price Shocks and Poor People Marc J. Cohen,Melinda Smale,2014-06-11 This book examines the effects of high and volatile food prices during 2007 08 on low income farmers and consumers in developing transition and industrialized countries Previous studies of this crisis have mostly used models to estimate the likely impacts This volume includes actual evidence from the field as to how higher prices affected access to food and farm income among poor people In addition to country and regional case studies the book presents discussions of cross cutting themes including gender risk management violence the importance of subsistence farming as a coping strategy and the role of governments and markets in addressing higher prices With 2011 witnessing an unprecedentedly high level of food prices the findings and policy recommendations presented here should prove useful to both scholars and policy makers in understanding the causes and consequences as well as the policies needed to ensure food security in light of the skyrocketing cost of food This book was published as a special double issue of Development in Practice International Bibliography of Book Reviews of Scholarly Literature Chiefly in the Fields of Arts and Humanities and the Social Sciences ,1999 Achieving Education for All through Public-Private Partnerships? Pauline Rose,2013-09-13 Concern for achieving Millennium Development Goals MDGs by 2015 has led to a focus on the role that non state providers NSPs can offer in extending access and improving quality of basic services While NSPs can help to fill a gap in provision to those excluded from state provision recent growth in both for profit and not for profit providers in developing countries has sometimes resulted in fragmentation of service delivery To address this attention is increasingly given in the education sector to developing partnerships between governments and NSPs Partnerships are further driven by the expectation that the state has the moral social and legal responsibility for overall education service delivery and so should play a role in facilitating and regulating NSPs Even where the ultimate aim of both non state providers and the state is to provide education of acceptable quality to all children this book provides evidence from diverse contexts across Africa South Asia and Latin America to highlight the challenges in them partnering to achieve this This book was published as a special issue of Development in Practice Gender, Development, and Poverty Caroline Sweetman,2002 This work examines how gender inequalities impact on men s women s and children s experiences of poverty and demonstrates the importance of integrating gender analysis into every aspect of development initiatives Development and Advocacy Deborah Eade,2002 Most major development NGOs dedicate significant resources to advocacy Many also work to inform and shape public opinion whether through advertising or fundraising or through education programmes They argue that fundamental change is not achieved until the policy environment is right and cannot be sustained without a ground swell of support for reform In recent years however advocacy work has come under increasing criticism NGOs are challenged on the grounds of legitimacy whom do they represent and to whom are they accountable effectiveness what practical impact does high level advocacy have on the lives of people living in poverty and who is to judge this role should NGOs try to combine funding and advocacy or do these demand different kinds of South North relationship strategy are NGOs too easily seduced by agencies like the World Bank or by the corporate sector When does constructive engagement with these powerful bodies turn into co option by them As international grassroots advocacy is becoming more vocal thanks to new communication technologies what is the appropriate role for Northern NGOs

Making Sense of World Conflicts Cathy Midwinter,2005 UNRISD Social Development News ,1997 Development, NGOS, and Civil Society Jenny Pearce,Deborah Eade,2000 The rise of neo liberalism and the so called Washington Consensus have generated a powerful international ideology concerning what constitutes good governance democratization and the proper roles of the State and civil society in advancing development As public spending has declined the nongovernment sector has benefited very significantly from taking on a service delivery role At the same time NGOs as representatives of civil society are a convenient channel through which official agencies can promote political pluralism But can NGOs simultaneously facilitate governments withdrawal from providing basic services for all and also claim to represent and speak for the poor and the disenfranchised The chapters describe some of the tensions inherent in the roles being played by NGOs and asks whether these organizations truly stand for anything fundamentally different from the agencies on whose largesse they increasingly depend

From Conflict to Peace in a Changing World Deborah Eade,1998 This Working Paper reproduces articles and essays which first appeared in the quarterly journal Development in Practice The first part features papers by scholars agency representatives practitioners and policy makers on the ethical and legal dimensions of humanitarian endeavour The second part comprises a collection of original essays which were commissioned from some of the highly experienced practitioners in the field of development and conflict who attended the 1996 Symposium entitled Building Bridges in Southern Africa Conflict Reconstruction and Reconciliation in Times of Change which was co sponsored by the Centre for the Study of Violence and Reconciliation CSVR and Oxfam s South Africa Office The two sections address conflict related themes from a range of perspectives and together paint an informative picture of the moral and practical complexities of crisis and intervention Contributors include Michel Chossudovsky Jenny Pearce Hugo Slim Juan Somavia and Derek Summerfield The paper concludes with an annotated bibliography listing current and classic publications on the subject of development work in the context of crisis and armed conflict

Mainstreaming Gender in Development Fenella Porter,Caroline Sweetman,2005 Articles discuss how gender mainstreaming has been understood in different organisations provide examples of good work which supports the empowerment of women and look beyond gender mainstreaming to what new possibilities exist for transformation

UNRISD News ,1997 Habitat Debate ,1999 Worldviews ,1998 Forthcoming Books Rose Army,2003 Development Methods and Approaches Critical Reflections ,2003 Many aid agencies advocate approaches to development which are people centred participatory empowering and gender fair This volume of essays explores some of the middle ground between such values based approaches and the methods and techniques that the agencies adopt The selection offers critical assessments of fashionable tools such as Participatory Rural Appraisal and Logical Framework It demonstrates how these are linked conceptually and in practice to the wider ideological environment in which they are used and shows how they depend upon the skills of the fieldworker and or organization applying them Contributors argue that tools and methods will contribute to a values based approach only if those using them have a serious commitment to a social agenda which is genuinely transformative

Development for Health ,1997 The achievement of Health for All by the Year 2000 has been the declared goal of the international community for almost 20 years Yet with deepening economic disparity within and between nations millions are denied access to basic care

Development and Cities David G. Westendorff,Deborah Eade,2002 Approaches to sustainable development in cities of the South have focused too exclusively on narrow technical aspects of environmental protection with no benefit to most residents in cities and peri urban areas However in many countries of the South the disengagement of government along with budgetary constraints a reliance on cost recovery mechanisms within structural adjustment packages and increasing disparity between poor and rich further reduces access by the poor to even the most rudimentary services Development and Cities focuses on the political social and economic viability of new or alternative approaches to urban management in the South that aim to increase access to adequate levels of basic services and healthy living and working conditions for all Case studies include cities in Argentina Cuba India Pakistan Peru the Philippines Tanzania and Zimbabwe

African Agenda ,2002
