Plunkett,2020-12-08 From baby pictures in the cloud to a high school's digital surveillance system how adults unwittingly compromise children's privacy online Our children's first digital footprints are made before they can walk even before they are born as parents use fertility apps to aid conception post ultrasound images and share their baby's hospital mug shot. Then in rapid succession come terabytes of baby pictures stored in the cloud, digital baby monitors with built-in artificial intelligence and real-time updates from daycare. When school starts, there are cafeteria cards that catalog food purchases, bus passes that track when kids are on and off the bus, electronic health records in the nurse's office, and a school surveillance system that has eyes everywhere. Unwittingly, parents, teachers, and other trusted adults are compiling digital dossiers for children that could be available to everyone: friends, employers, law enforcement, forever. In this incisive book, Leah Plunkett examines the implications of sharenting: adults' excessive digital sharing of children's data. She outlines the mistakes adults make with kids' private information, the risks that result, and the legal system that enables sharenting. Plunkett describes various modes of sharenting, including commercial sharenting efforts by parents to use their families' private experiences to make money, and unpacks the faulty assumptions made by our legal system about children, parents, and privacy. She proposes a thought compass to guide adults in their decision-making about children's digital data: play, forget, connect, and respect. Enshrining every false step and bad choice, Plunkett argues, can rob children of their chance to explore and learn lessons. The Internet needs to forget. We need to remember.

Unlocking Possibilities in the Library M'Balu Bangura, 2025-08-07. This groundbreaking book explores the exciting realm of non-traditional programming in libraries, unlocking new possibilities for engagement, learning, and community building. Explore the evolving role of libraries as community hubs that go beyond traditional book lending and educational programs. This book highlights innovative and forward-thinking library programs that address emerging community needs, from digital literacy and re-entry services to mental health support and environmental sustainability initiatives. Drawing on real-world case studies, the book provides practical insights into how libraries can harness their unique resources to tackle the challenges faced by diverse and underserved populations. What sets Unlocking Possibilities in the Library: Programming for the Future apart is its focus on the innovative and non-traditional library programs that are reshaping the way libraries interact with their communities. It emphasizes that libraries are not just places for books but vibrant spaces for community engagement and empowerment. The book takes a deep dive into the lessons learned from libraries across the nation that have implemented groundbreaking programs, offering both successes and challenges and actionable strategies that other libraries can adopt. In addition to program implementation, Unlocking Possibilities in the Library delves into the crucial aspects of building community partnerships, ensuring inclusivity, and addressing systemic inequities. By bridging the gap between traditional services and innovative outreach, this book showcases how libraries can act as catalysts for positive social change. With its comprehensive exploration of non-traditional programming and focus on community impact, Unlocking Possibilities in the Library offers library professionals, administrators, and policymakers a resource for creating meaningful, forward-thinking programs that make libraries more relevant and accessible in today's diverse, rapidly evolving world.
