Urbanism and Urbanity

Leigh Mercer, 2012-11-08 Through the study of more than twenty novels produced in Spain from the 1840s to the 1920s this book explores the literary means by which the social options available to modern Spanish bourgeois citizens were discursively constructed occasionally before and often concomitantly to their production in reality As a result this study is concerned with the interplay of realism and reality in modern Spain From the earliest folletines of the 1840s to the Modernist novels of the 1920s the majority of novels written in this eighty year period are what one might term novelas de costumbres contempor neas or novels of contemporary customs and therefore primarily concerned with faithfully copying and moreover influencing real social norms in the public sphere In these pages I argue that the spatial and behavioral discourses in the novels of contemporary customs offer a telling history of the evolving formulation of the Spanish bourgeoisie The linking of novels and urbanism is hardly arbitrary in the context of nineteenth century Spain Urbanism particularly in the nineteenth century was as much a verbal construction as the novel as proven by the lengthy treatises of such prominent Spanish bureaucrats engineers architects and urban planners as Ramón de Mesonero Romanos Ildefonso Cerdá and Carlos María de Castro For Spanish intellectuals of this era city planning and the novel functioned as parallel enmeshed discourses in which to work out what it meant to be middle class and the roles this class ought to play in contemporary society In this way they can be considered associated fields of discourse in the sense described by Michel Foucault in The Archaeology of Knowledge Foucault's treatise was a call for scholars to reexamine historical fields and question the historical grouping of knowledge s into certain discursive unities and consider whether these might be broken up and new ones conceived In this vein this book undertakes a broader and more integrative view of the Spanish nineteenth century calling into question the boundaries of fields such as etiquette and urban planning or literature and touristic discourse La de Bringas Benito Pérez Galdós, 1884

The Reframing of Realism Hazel Gold, 1993 In the writing of Benito Pérez Galdós Spain's most prolific and innovative nineteenth century novelist Hazel Gold finds the act of framing insistently at work By exploring Galdós's methods of structuring and evaluating literary and historical experience Gold illuminates the novelist's art and uncovers the far reaching narratological social and epistemological implications of his framing strategies A close look at Galdós's novels reveals the artist at pains to contain and interpret what he perceived to be the distinctive and often disheartening experience of bourgeois liberalism of his day Looking beyond text to context Gold examines the ways in which Galdós's work itself has been framed by readers and critics in accordance with changing allegiances to contemporary literary theory and the canon The highly ambiguous status of the frame in Galdós's fiction confirms the author's own signal position as a writer poised at the limits between realism and modernity The Culture of Cursilería Noël Valis, 2003-01-16 Similar to the term kitsch but evoking pretensions to elegance cursilería and its role in the cultural life of modern Spain and the subjects of this work

Galdos Jo Labanyi, 2014-01-14 Benito Perez Galdos has been described as the greatest Spanish novelist since Cervantes. His work constitutes a major contribution to the nineteenth century novel, rivalling that of Dickens or Balzac and making him an essential candidate for any course on the fiction of the period. Jo Labanyi's study is supported by a wide-ranging introduction, a section of contemporary comment, headnotes to each piece, and helpful appendix material. Gender and Representation Lou Charnon-Deutsch, 1990-01-01 Applying recent European and Anglo-American feminist scholarship to the problems of gender representation, Charnon-Deutsch challenges the prevailing idea that the 19th-century Spanish novel is woman-centered. The author's examination of novels by Valera, Pereda, Alas, and Galdos demonstrates that these works are instead a complex exploration of male identity. Decoding the gender ideology of women's roles, discourse, and representations, Charnon-Deutsch uncovers in the novels multiple configurations of androcentricity as well as voyeuristic tendencies which she interprets as a means of mastering what is threatening to the male psyche. La de Bringas, Por B. Perez Galdós Benito Pérez Galdós, 1952 The National Review, 1889 Texas Review, 1922 Southwest Review, 1923 Beginners' Spanish William Hanssler, Clarence Edward Parmenter, 1919 Additions to the Rhaeto-Romantic Collection Cornell University Libraries, 1896 Spanish Literature Lemcke & Buechner, 1903 Bulletin, 1896 The Library Bulletin of Cornell University, 1896 "The" Library of Cornell University Cornell University Library, 1896 Library Bulletin of Cornell University Cornell University Libraries, 1896 Maximilian in Mexico Percy Falcke Martin, 1914
