Deadly Cultures Biological Weapons Since 1945:

Deadly Cultures Mark Wheelis, 2006-01-30 Deadly Cultures offers an historical analysis of biological weapons since 1945 and addresses three central issues why states have continued or begun programs for acquiring biological weapons why states have terminated such programs and how states have demonstrated that they have truly terminated their biological weapons programs Biological Weapons DR. U C Jha, Dr K Ratnabali, 2021-02-01 The threat of biological weapons has been worrying about the armed forces as well as political leaders for quite some time With the global recorded deaths from COVID 19 surpassing one million the biotechnological revolution has heightened the fear of future weaponized pathogens The COVID 19 virus or its variant could be the most effective weapon for future biological warfare The indiscriminate effect of such a weapon and its power to cripple economies and devastate the lives of people may make it attractive to rogue States and non State actors This book provides an updated analysis of biological warfare agents including the COVID 19 virus biotechnological developments affecting biological agents and the legal regime responsible for preventing the use of biological weapons Defense Against Biological Attacks Sunit K. Singh, Jens H. Kuhn, 2019-03-30 This first volume of a two volume set describes general aspects such as the historical view on the topic the role of information distribution and preparedness of health care systems and preparedness in emergency cases Part two describes and discusses in detail the pathogens and toxins that are potentially used for biological attacks As such the book is a valuable resource for faculties engaged in molecular biology genetic engineering neurology biodefense biosafety biosecurity virology and infectious disease programs as well as professional medical research organizations Preventing Chemical Weapons Michael

Crowley, Malcolm Dando, Lijun Shang, 2018-08-20 The life and chemical sciences are in the midst of a period of rapid and revolutionary transformation that will undoubtedly bring societal benefits but also have potentially malign applications notably in the development of chemical weapons Such concerns are exacerbated by the unstable international security environment and the changing nature of armed conflict which could fuel a desire by certain States to retain and use existing chemical weapons as well as increase State interest in creating new weapons whilst a broader range of actors may seek to employ diverse toxic chemicals as improvised weapons Stark indications of the multi faceted dangers we face can be seen in the chemical weapons attacks against civilians and combatants in Iraq and Syria and also in more targeted chemical assassination operations in Malaysia and the UK Using a multi disciplinary approach and drawing upon an international group of experts this book analyses current and likely near future advances in relevant science and technology assessing the risks of their misuse The book examines the current capabilities limitations and failures of the existing international arms control and disarmament architecture notably the Chemical Weapons Convention in preventing the development and use of chemical weapons Through the employment of a novel Holistic Arms Control methodology the authors also look beyond the bounds of such treaties to explore the full range of international law international agreements and regulatory mechanisms potentially applicable to weapons employing toxic chemical agents in order to develop recommendations for more effective routes to combat their proliferation and misuse A particular emphasis is given to the roles that chemical and life scientists health professionals and wider informed activist civil society can play in protecting the prohibition against poison and chemical weapons and in working with States to build effective and responsive measures to ensure that the rapid scientific and technological advances are safeguarded from hostile use and are instead employed for the benefit of us all The Human experience with nuclear biological and chemical NBC warfare has been limited especially in comparison to conventional forms of warfare Our experience with nuclear warfare is confined to a period of less than one week during the end of World War II when the United States successfully used two nuclear weapons against targets in Japan The course of biological warfare and modern use of biological weapons are difficult to track owing to the difficulty of differentiating deliberate use from natural outbreaks However the keen potential of biological weapons in acts of terror was shown in the mass disruption caused in the fall 2001 experience in the U S with the release of anthrax through the American postal system Chemical weapons have been used in a handful of conflicts since their introduction to modern warfare during World War I most recently during the Iran Iraq War during the 1980s Despite this limited experience NBC warfare continues to exert a certain fascination among states The Historical Dictionary of Nuclear Biological and Chemical Warfare covers the development and use of NBC weapons as well as efforts to limit or control the use of these weapons through a chronology a bibliography an introductory essay and dictionary entries Over 500 cross referenced dictionary entries provide a unique selection of terms related to NBC warfare ranging from basic descriptions of substances used in NBC warfare to details on incidents and episodes where NBC weapons were used Entries are structured around historical events persons important to NBC warfare countries where such weapons have been developed or used and international treaties and treaty related organizations
