Advertising in the Digital Age Sevil Yesiloglu, Joyce Costello, 2024-04-09. Advertising is everywhere. Whether you realise it or not, it's there when you watch your favourite Netflix show, when you scroll through Instagram, and when you search on Google. What's more, advertisers are becoming more savvy than ever, using new technologies to target adverts to you specifically. So, what are we to make of all this? This book will equip you with a thorough understanding of today's media environment and how online advertising differs from traditional offline models. In an age of influencers, big data, AI, and social media, the world of advertising looks very different from how it did a generation ago. You will learn not only about various types of advertising but also about its impact on viewers, from our buying habits to possible harm. Tying theory and concepts to practice, this volume is the ideal complement to courses in advertising, digital media, and communication, and will enable you to form a clear picture of the reality of working across promotional media industries.

The Digital Humanities Coursebook Johanna Drucker, Francesca Albrezzi, 2025-11-10. This second edition of The Digital Humanities Coursebook provides critical frameworks for the application of digital humanities tools and platforms, which have become an integral part of work across a wide range of disciplines. This fully updated edition adds several new topics, including XR (extended reality) and AI (artificial intelligence), as well as a companion website developed in parallel with the chapters, providing extended how-to examples to enable students and teachers to follow step-by-step demonstrations of tools or platforms. Written in an accessible and engaging manner, this book is focused on the principles and fundamental concepts for application, and each chapter contains case study examples of projects, tools, and platforms that demonstrate these principles in action. This book clearly details how to integrate the acquisition of expertise in data, metadata, classification, interface, visualization, network analysis, topic modeling, data mining, mapping, and web presentation, with issues in intellectual property, sustainability, privacy, and the ethical use of information. By combining practical information and critical issues, the book demonstrates that no application of digital humanities can be separated from ethical and critical concerns. This book is structured to complement courses on digital humanities and provides a series of modules, each of which is organized around a set of concerns and topics, thought experiments, and questions, as well as discussions of the ways in which tools and platforms work. Each chapter contains an introduction to the topic, examples of current and sometimes classic work being done in the field, a set of exercises to explore the hands-on experience, references, and recommended readings. The Digital Humanities Coursebook will therefore be an indispensable guide for anyone teaching or studying a course in the
