Why You Should Try Ai Writing Tool For Gen Z:

Teaching Political Science and International Relations for Early Career Instructors Michael P. A. Murphy, Misbah Hyder, 2024-12-01 In doctoral programs graduate students are often encouraged to prioritize their research over teaching. This leads many early career scholars to identify primarily with the role of researcher. This edited collection introduces the term early career instructor (ECI) as a novel concept in understanding the experience of graduate students, postdoctoral fellows, early tenure track contingent faculty, and other scholars early in their teaching careers. Including a diverse array of authors, this volume brings together essays on ECI experiences in different institutional and national contexts, as well as reflections on current practices for ECI support and mentorship. At a higher level, this volume is also a call to action to recognize the importance of teaching in the early career stage.

Discovering Public Relations Karen Freberg, 2024-02-16 Discovering Public Relations introduces students to the field of PR in a practical, applied, and hands-on way that prepares them for the modern workplace. Author Karen Freberg highlights modern and contemporary PR practices, emphasizing social media, digital communication, and creative innovation. Understanding that creativity alone can't create success, Freberg shows students how to choose and implement evidence-based practices to guide their strategic campaigns. The Second Edition transforms students into successful PR professionals by giving them the tools to think creatively, innovate effectively, and deploy research-backed tactics for successful campaigns.

Navigating the Complexities of Health Professions Education for Millennial and Generation Z Learners Channing R. Ford, Kimberly B. Garza, Lindsey E. Moseley, Emily B. Wilkins, 2024-01-16 The evolving landscape of healthcare tasks health professions educators with preparing the next generation of providers to be adaptable, responsive, and self-directed to ensure that they are prepared for entry into practice. The complexity of developing, implementing, and assessing health professions education is further compounded when educators consider the expectations of their learners and strive to integrate their needs and expectations into the learning environment. As a result of the varying academic requirements of health professions disciplines, educators may be faced with teaching students spanning multiple generations, to primarily include Millennial and Generation Z learners. Educators must be prepared to anticipate, identify, and respond to differing generational expectations to ensure that health professions students are equipped with the knowledge, skills, and abilities needed for practice. This book examines generational differences between Millennial and Generation Z learners to inform health professions educators of those generational characteristics and expectations. The book also illustrates how higher education has evolved and changed as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic and the impending demographic cliff, how educators can adapt the varying learning environments, classroom, clinical, and experiential present within health professions education, and provide best practices to consider when developing, implementing, and revising learning opportunities.
