Born to Buy Juliet B. Schor, 2014-08-19 From the bestselling author of The Overworked American an illuminating and well researched account on the consequences of turning younger and younger children into consumers Marketing targeted at kids is virtually everywhere in classrooms and textbooks on the Internet even at Girl Scout meetings slumber parties and the playground Product placement and other innovations have introduced more subtle advertising to movies and television Drawing on her own survey research and unprecedented access to the advertising industry Juliet B Schor New York Times bestselling author of The Overworked American examines how marketing efforts of vast size scope and effectiveness have created commercialized children Ads and their messages about sex drugs and food affect not just what children want to buy but who they think they are In this groundbreaking and crucial book Schor looks at the consequences of the commercialization of childhood and provides guidelines for parents and teachers She argues that the emotional and social well being of our children is at stake Like Barbara Ehrenreich's Nickel and Dimed Mary Pipher's Reviving Ophelia and Malcolm Gladwell's The Tipping Point Born to Buy is a major contribution to our understanding of a contemporary trend and its effects on the culture

Rethinking Childhood Peter B. Pufall, Richard P. Unsworth, 2003-11-21 Being a child in American society can be problematic Twenty percent of American children live in poverty parents are divorcing at high rates and educational institutions are not always fulfilling their goals Against this backdrop children are often patronized or idealized by adults Rarely do we look for the strengths within children that can serve as the foundation for growth and development In Rethinking Childhood twenty contributors coming from the disciplines of anthropology government law psychology education religion philosophy and sociology provide a multidisciplinary view of childhood by listening and understanding the ways children shape their own futures Topics include education poverty family life divorce neighborhood life sports the internet and legal status In all these areas children have both voice and agency They construct their own social networks and social reality sort out their own values and assess and cope with the perplexing world around them The contributors present ideas that lead not only to new analyses but also to innovative policy applications Taken together these essays develop a new paradigm for understanding childhood as children experience these years This paradigm challenges readers to develop fresh ways of listening to children's voices that enable both children and adults to cross the barriers of age experience and stereotyping that make communication difficult A volume in the Rutgers Series in Childhood Studies edited by Myra Bluebond Langner
