The chapters, written by experienced educators from around the world, are highly practical and detail the process of designing materials for innovative and sustainable language education. The contributors reflect on their own practice, describe the materials design process, explain the guiding principles, and connect the design process with the local context and educational policies. They also offer practical tips to inspire classroom practitioners to create their own materials promoting innovative teaching and sustainable learning. Ultimately, their chapters aim to encourage a world where teaching involves creativity and adaptability, leading to transformative learning for both teachers and learners.

Reimagining Education Sharon Mistretta, 2024-01-24 Education stakeholders are at a crossroads where teaching and learning paths intersect with technologies fueled by emerging artificial intelligence. Educators who observe the residual effects of a global pandemic are left to wonder what creative technology solutions that sustain teaching and learning amidst mutating contagions should be retained, abandoned, or reimagined to create sustainable pedagogy practices. In this book, about e-learning, invited authors analyze the impacts of overarching issues facing educators across the globe to rethink how they deliver content and assess students' learning. A global community of scholars and researchers contributed twenty chapters to examine artificial intelligence, alternative assessments, education policy, creative technology, creative lesson plans, and emerging workforce trends to foster emerging paradigms in the post-pandemic era.

Transformative Education Charlotte Graham, Philippe Longchamps, 2022-08-03 Transformative Education aims decisively to transform the world of education and to nurture the next generation to become problem solvers and creative thinkers empowered with the necessary skills to make this world a better place. It provides practical methods for sustainable integrative and active learning and investigates the why behind these proven and effective methods. Discussing the different levels of subject integration in school, from intradisciplinary to transdisciplinary teaching, the authors analyse their potential holistic impact and knowledge retention effectiveness. With a substantial section on the efficacious teaching of the increasingly indispensable field of critical thinking, this book is built up first around a discourse of the intended methodology; secondly, it also includes a very practical mid-section with direct and meticulously described project ideas for teachers to try out; and finally, a discussion and an analysis on what effects the proposed techniques might have and how teachers and students could be facilitated in their learning processes by school leaders and administrators This pioneering endeavour is an important text for education professionals globally as well as for the policy makers that regulate their work It may also be of interest to parents and to a wider society Additional digital resource content is available online and includes practical examples explanations and video to help support sustainable integrative and active learning     Mecklermedia's Official Internet World Marshall Breeding,1995-11 A comprehensive guide to more than 5 000 World Wide Web sites More than a tour guide this book contains complete descriptions of more than 500 Web sites in more than 30 major subject areas Compiled by the experts at Mecklermedia publisher of Internet World The CD includes a hypertext version of the book Simply click your way to finding out more about WWW sites     The School Executive ,1927     The Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record ,1913     Washington Education Journal ,1928     The Journal of Arkansas Education Everett Brackin Tucker,H.
