School-based nutrition and physical activity interventions among children and adolescents Shooka Mohammadi ,Hui Chin Koo,Ai Kah Ng, 2025-04-07 The increasing prevalence of obesity sedentary lifestyle and unhealthy eating habits among children and adolescents is very concerning The main risk factors that lead to childhood weight problems and obesity are an increase in meals eaten outside of the home a rise in access to high fat foods high consumption of energy packed foods a sedentary lifestyle or skipping breakfast This is concerning as obesity inadequate physical activity PA and unhealthy diets are associated with chronic diseases Therefore promoting healthy eating and sufficient PA among children and adolescents has become a research priority and an important public health concern The World Health Organization WHO considers schools a critical setting for improving public healthy eating and decreasing the risk of unhealthy weight gain in childhood In particular environmental interventions are recommended as they are more likely to lead to behavioural change Thus promoting adequate PA and a healthy diet among school aged children is essential

Surveillance Education Nolan Higdon, Allison Butler, 2024-08-02 Surveillance Education explores the pervasive use of digital surveillance technologies in schools and assesses its pernicious effects on students Recognizing that the use of digital technologies will persist the authors instead offer practical ways to ameliorate their impact In our era of surveillance capitalism digital media technologies are ever more intertwined into the educational process Schools are presented with digital technologies as tools of convenience for gathering and grading student work as tools of support to foster a more equitable learning environment and as tools of safety for predicting or preventing violence or monitoring mental emotional and physical health Despite a dearth of evidence to confirm their effectiveness digital data collection and tracking is often presented as a way to improve educational outcomes and safety This book challenges these fallacious assumptions and argues that the use of digital media technologies has caused great harm to students by subjecting them to oppressive levels of surveillance impinging upon their right to privacy and harvesting their personal data on behalf of Big Tech In doing so the authors draw upon interviews from K 12 and higher education students teachers and staff civil rights and technology lawyers and educational technological programmers The authors also provide practical guidance for teachers administrators students and their families seeking to identify and combat surveillance in education This urgent eye opening book will be of interest to students and educators with interests in critical media literacy and pedagogy and the sociology of technology and education     Automated Software Engineering ,1997     Artificial Intelligence Abstracts ,1991
