Changing Economics in the South United States. Congress. House. Select Committee on Children, Youth, and Families,1987 Journal and News Bulletin of the American Vocational Association ,1929 Youth and Employment in Sub-Saharan Africa Hiroyuki Hino,Gustav Ranis,2014-06-05 It is widely acknowledged that youth unemployment is one of the most critical challenges facing countries in Sub Saharan Africa This volume brings together an eminent group of international scholars to analyse the extent and complex nature of this joblessness and offer a set of evidence based policy choices that could contribute to solving the problem in the short and long run Part I reviews the existing literature on youth unemployment and underemployment in Sub Saharan Africa from microeconomic and macroeconomic perspectives while Part II goes on to present detailed country studies of Ethiopia Ghana Kenya and South Africa These studies offer a deep understanding of the situation on the ground and consider country specific solutions Throughout the book it is argued that the standard ILO definition of unemployment is too narrow to correctly portray employment situations in Sub Saharan Africa Several alternative measures of unemployment are presented which show that joblessness is far more pervasive than commonly assumed in the literature This volume will be of interest to academics and policy makers involved in African development News Bulletin - American Vocational Association American Vocational Association,1928 Incentivizing and retaining public servants in remote areas: A discrete choice experiment with agricultural extension agents in Ethiopia Regassa, Mekdim D.,Abate, Gashaw T.,Kubik, Zaneta,2020-07-08 Increased deployment of agricultural extension agents EAs in rural areas is grounded on their importance to spur agricultural productivity and mitigate spatial imbalances in welfare However the high turnover and the low motivation levels of EAs in remote areas pose challenges for equitable service provision and in some cases exacerbates geographic disparities We assess the effectiveness of selected potential policy interventions to incentivize and retain EAs in remote areas of Ethiopia To this end we conducted a choice experiment to elicit preferences for job attributes of 761 EAs We applied a random parameters logit model to estimate parameters of interest and to simulate the impact of possible policy interventions The main results show that offering continuing education opportunities after two years of service increases uptake of an extension job in remote locations by 77 percentage points which is significantly higher than the effect from doubling current salary levels 70 percentage points EAs also expressed a strong preference for work environments with basic amenities housing transportation services and well-equipped Farmer Training Centers FTCs Furthermore the results from sub sample analyses show that female EAs are less responsive to pecuniary incentives and are more concerned with the availability of infrastructure and services Current salary levels years of employment and location of work are also important sources of heterogeneity in the response of EAs to potential policy changes Congressional Record United States.
