Grape Man of Texas Roy Renfro, 2008-10-01 Grape Man of Texas is the first biography of Thomas Volney Munson 1843 1913 the internationally recognized horticulturist who developed over 300 new varieties of grapes some of which are still grown today on almost every continent He is perhaps best known for his work in fighting the phylloxera epidemic of the late nineteenth century which nearly destroyed the world's vineyards His solution grafting vinifera onto certain resistant native rootstocks from Texas earned him the Chevalier du Merite Agricole in the French Legion of Honor and numerous accolades This second edition introduces new insights into the phylloxera period Munson's many papers and publications and his far sighted grasp of the needs of twentieth century agriculture and transportation It details the continuing influence of both his research and his hybrid grapes on modern viticulture and new varieties of vitis that have been bred from them around the world American Florist, 1907 The Coming Man from Canton Chris W. Merritt, 2017 In The Coming Man from Canton Christopher W Merritt mines the historical and archaeological record of the Chinese immigrant experience in Montana to explore new questions and perspectives During the 1860s Chinese immigrants arrived by the thousands moving into the Rocky Mountain West and tenaciously searching for prosperity in the face of resistance restriction racism and armed hostility from virtually every ethnic group in American society As second class citizens Chinese immigrants remained largely insular and formed their own internal governments as well as labor and trade networks typically establishing communities apart from the main towns Chinese miners launderers restaurant keepers gardeners railroad laborers and other workers became a separate but integral part of the American experience in the Intermountain West Although Chinese immigrants constituted more than 10 percent of the Montana Territory's total population by 1870 the historical records provide a biased and narrow perspective as they were generally written by European American community members Merritt uses the statewide Montana context to show the diversity of Chinese settlements that has often been neglected by archival studies His research highlights how the legacy of the Chinese in Montana is or is not reflected in modern Montana identity and how scholars educators professionals and the public can alter the existing perception of this population as the other and perceive it instead an integral part of Montana's past The Two-career Family Lynda Lytle Holmstrom, 1972 The Living Age, 1882
